U. S. Troops In Country Total 14,000

Beirut — (AP) — One thousand more U. S. troops arrived in Lebanon today. An American military spokesman said this completed the movement of troops assigned to this country.

There are now more than 14,000 U. S. soldiers and marines here. The troops debarking from the transport, General Geiger, included a hospital unit, signals and signals photos units and a graves registration team.

Gen. Fuad Shehab, Lebanon's army chief who was elected president of the nation last week as a compromise in a 3-month rebellion, declared Monday withdrawal of American soldiers and marines was "foremost among our national aims."

Until Term Ends But President Camille Chamoun indicated his determination to keep the troops here until his term ends Sept. 23. Newspapers in nearby Israel said Britain was attempting to get Israel to reconsider its ban on British and American transports using her air space to carry supplies to Jordan.

But reliable sources in Amman said there was little chance the British-American airlift would be started up again. These sources said that in an emergency Israel might be persuaded to permit the airlift to resume, but that in the present situation there

Asserts Payoffs Averted Strike At Laundry Firm

Washington — (AP) — A former Detroit laundry operator swore today that payoffs he understood would go to teamsters Boss James R. Hoffa averted a threatened strike in 1949.

William H. Miller told the senate rackets investigating committee he personally turned over $450 to an official of an organization of laundry firms. He said it was his understanding this would go to Hoffa as the price of labor peace in the Detroit laundry industry.

Hoffa was a witness before the senate committee, and was asked to step aside while Miller testified.

The teamsters president, who had just denied much recollection of anything having to do with the negotiations in the 1949 labor dispute, sat silently at the witness table in the big, crowded hearing room as Miller gave his testimony.

Father-Son Team to Defend Divorcee in Executive's Killing

Indianapolis — (AP) — A well-known Indianapolis father-and-son lawyer team was hired Monday by spurned divorcee Connie Nicholas to defend her in the killing of drug company Executive Forrest Teel.

Charles W. Symmes announced he and his father, Frank A. Symmes, will defend the twice-divorced woman.

The younger Symmes indicated Mrs. Nicholas' strategy would be self defense.

Among the dead were from sunstroke and heat exhaustion.

Secretary, Leaders of Brazil Launch Talks

Students Jeer Dulles on Arrival in South America for Economic Meetings

Rio de Janeiro — (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles opened economic talks today with Brazilian leaders.

Dulles met with Foreign Minister Francisco Negro de Lima and Finance Minister Lucas Lopes, former president of the National Development Bank of Brazil.

Accompanying Dulles and other members of his party to the meeting were U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs and Howard Cottam, economic counselor and chief of the point four program in Brazil.

Students jeered at Dulles on his arrival Monday, but there have been no further demonstrations.

Dulles winds up the first full day of his 60-hour visit with a meeting with President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Dulles said on arrival he would talk about the world situation, inter-American relations with special attention to economic problems and U. S. Brazilian relations.

The Brazilians were most interested in what Dulles would have to say about coffee, their chief export crop, and U. S. aid in developing Brazilian oil resources.

A meeting of hemisphere foreign ministers or even heads of governments to study economic and other problems has been suggested by Kubitschek.

Dulles indicated in an airport statement his mind was on the cold war and the Middle East. And on arrival at the U. S. embassy, he told the embassy staff that "the days today are particularly critical. There is an effort to exert pressure perhaps more intense than during the last three or four years—perhaps more reminiscent of the Berlin airlift and of Korea in that respect."

Uncle Who Swore Revenge Disappears as Officers Seek Clues in Mystery

Pontiac, Mich. — (AP) — New mystery piled up today in the human-torch burning of a former convict business agent for the Teamsters union. His former-convict uncle who swore revenge has disappeared.

Herman Kierdorf, 63, was missing and sought on a warrant charging him with possessing a silencer for a pistol.

Herman had both sworn revenge and reported a telephone threat of "You'll be next."

His stocky, muscular body charred nearly from head to foot, Herman's nephew, 56-year-old Frank Kierdorf, lay near death at a Pontiac hospital.

Woman Strapped and Beaten in Michigan Robbery Attempt

Harrison, Mich. — (AP) — A well-to-do woman, fatally beaten and stabbed by an assailant who then set her house afire, staggered outside and named her attacker moments before she died today.

Mrs. Beverly Thompson, 54, of Coopers in Clare county, staggered and crawled towards the home of her brother, Ted Cooper, who lived across the street.

She gasped out to him the name of Gene Heath, 27, of Saginaw before she died.

Clare county Sheriff Jim Darling said Heath, arrested a short time later admitted the slaying. Heath was booked on an open charge for investigation.

Strapped, Beat Her Sheriff Darling said the dying woman told her brother Heath beat her and stabbed her in the head with an ice pick. She said he then set a fire in the cellar in an apparent effort to burn the house down and conceal the crime.

The blaze severely damaged the house but Mrs. Thompson got outside in her final moments of life.

Saginaw police records showed that Heath had a long

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) said he was hopeful but also somewhat skeptical of adjournment by that date.

Saltonstall and Martin talked with newsmen following the weekly meeting of President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders.

connected with union business. Frank was tossed from a car to the hospital grounds.

Herman disappeared last night after persuading Frank to gasp out his pain-racked story.

Oakland county prosecutor Frederick Ziem said a brief case Herman Kierdorf left at a neighbor's home contained a German pistol with a home-made silencer. Putting a silencer on a pistol is punishable by up to five years imprisonment, Ziem said.

Two telephones and another gun also were found in a sack left at the neighbor's by Herman, Ziem said, but added that Herman "wouldn't tell us anything."

Last Seen "Police said Herman was last seen as he left St. Joseph's Mercy hospital yesterday. Alerts were sent to neighboring police departments.

Frank at first would only whisper through his burned lips that he was "John Doe of Washington, D. C." Identity finally was established through prints of fingerprints he apparently dug into his palms as flames scared him.

Both nephew and uncle have been reluctant witnesses before the senate rackets committee in its probe of the Teamsters union.

Ziem sent Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.), rackets committee chairman, an 8-minute recording of Frank Kierdorf's torture story. Committee investigators, Walter H. Benson and Sherman S. Wilse spent several hours with Ziem and Pontiac police.

Await Word From Reds on Meeting

UN Delegates Hold Private Talks On Plans for Summit Conference

London — (AP) — The Soviet government today demanded an extraordinary session of the United Nations general assembly.

The demand was advanced by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a letter replying to President Eisenhower's note of Aug. 1. Eisenhower suggested that the UN security council arrange for a summit meeting on the Middle East.

A summary of the Khrushchev response was distributed shortly after U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, Jr., and his British and French colleagues were called to the foreign ministry in Moscow to receive copies of notes to their respective governments.

United Nations, N.Y. — UN delegates are continuing private discussion of arrangements for a security council summit meeting while awaiting word whether Soviet Premier Khrushchev will attend.

In the absence of word from the Russians, there has been no scheduling of a preliminary meeting of the council to set a time and place for the government chiefs to gather. There was speculation in Moscow and at UN headquarters that Khrushchev's acceptance or rejection of the western invitation to a council meeting might be made public at the UN, not in the Soviet capital.

Diplomats leaning to this view pointed out that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan in their last letters to the Soviet chief had not requested an answer specifically but had said they were going ahead to arrange a summit security council meeting to start around Aug. 12.

These sources felt it would be logical for the Soviet UN delegate, Arkady Sobolev, to communicate the Russian position to the council.

Britain's UN delegate, Sir Pierson Dixon, told newsmen the private talks among delegates might continue all week. It was apparent that no summit meeting could be arranged by Aug. 12. Aug. 18 appeared a more likely date.

Windfall Cheese Case Companies Ordered To Repay Interest

Wausau — (AP) — U. S. District Judge Patrick T. Stone ruled today in a memorandum opinion that eight food companies ordered to repay about $1,300,000 in the windfall profits cheese case must also pay more than two years' interest on the sum.

The firms, which made the profits on paper transactions of stored cheese when federal support prices were lowered, had asked that interest be waived for the period from May 8, 1956, when the government demanded repayment, to June 28, 1958, when Judge Stone ruled the money must be repaid.

How Commie Went to Jail

Berlin — (AP) — August the Powerful languished today in the clutches of the East German communist police. And all because he threw his pants out the lavatory window on a speeding train.

Until the pants affair got nationwide publicity in the newspapers, August Starke was looked upon as a solid and respected citizen of Dresden. His bowling pals affectionately called him August the Powerful.

Like a lot of other East Germans, he ducked into allied-occupied West Berlin to buy the garment. East German law forbids shopping in West Berlin, but many East Germans take the chance because the clothes are cheaper and made better.

Little Rock Appeal Now in Court's Hands

Judges Studying Suspension of School Integration

St. Louis — (AP) — Uncharted legal territory will be explored by the eighth U. S. circuit court of appeals in studying suspension of racial integration at Little Rock's Central High school.

The 7-judge court is expected to make a decision before the fall school term begins at Little Rock.

At issue is a June 21 order by U. S. district Judge Harry J. Lemley of Arkansas, granting a 2-year suspension or cooling off period at the school where integration was enforced with federal troops during the last school year. The order was appealed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The big question before the appeals court is whether such a delay is legally permissible under the supreme court's order that segregation in public schools be ended with "all deliberate speed." The question has not been considered previously.

Four Fined for Tipsy Driving

Three Men, One Woman Arrested; Licenses Revoked

Four drivers were fined and their licenses revoked for one year in municipal court today for drunken driving.

Fined were John E. Fitzgerald, 44, route 1, Black Creek; Wesley L. Douglas, 57, 115 W. North street; Alfred L. Buchholz, 52, Hortonville; Mrs. Alma O. Scott, 49, Milwaukee.

Fitzgerald was arrested by county police after they saw him weaving through the streets of Black Creek on his tractor shortly after 1 o'clock the morning of July 19. He failed to stop for a stop sign and nearly ran over the county policeman who tried to stop him.

Car Standing After talking to the county policeman, Fitzgerald tried but couldn't get back on his tractor, police said. He refused to take a drunkometer test and was fined $100.

Williams, Symington Facing Primaries

Expect Possibilities for 1960 Democratic Presidential Race To Clear Local Contests Easily

By The Associated Press

Two possibilities for the 1960 Democratic presidential race are expected to clear their local political hurdles in good style today as four states hold primary elections.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri are strong favorites to gain re-nomination in primaries in their states. Williams, the onetime boy wonder of Michigan politics, is seeking an unprecedented sixth term.

Sen. Neuberger Favors Water Diversion Bill

Says Canada Not Opposed to Chicago Getting More Water

Washington—(U)—Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore) said Monday he is now in favor of a bill granting Chicago increased Lake Michigan water diversion permission for a 1-year trial period.

Neuberger, in announcing he was changing his stand, said the U.S. state department informed him by letter Canada is not opposed to the 1-year diversion and will back the proposal for that reason.

Neuberger formerly was against the proposal to allow Chicago to divert additional Lake Michigan water because he felt it would set a precedent for Canada to take similar action in the northwest with the waters of the Columbia river. Both Oregon and Washington interests are against Columbia river water diversion.

No Objection

Last year the house passed a bill to permit Chicago to divert an additional 1,000 cubic feet of water per second into the Illinois Waterway for a 3-year period. The state department, which had previously objected to the bill, told the senate public works subcommittee now holding hearings on the bill that it would not object to a 1-year trial period.

There was no immediate indication whether the senate would go along with the house on a 3-year period or favor a 1-year period instead.

Legislation to increase the diversion from Lake Michigan was passed in 1954 and 1956 but both times met a veto from President Eisenhower, who said among other things that the diversions were authorized without reference to negotiations with Canada.

Wisconsin and other Great Lakes states long have been opposed to the increased diversion asked by Chicago.

3 Steel Firms Raise Costs of Selected Items

Bethlehem, Inland, U. S. Follow Lead In Price Adjustments

Pittsburgh—(U)—Three more steel firms, including the nation's two largest, today increased the cost of selected steel items in the second round of the industry's piecemeal price adjustments.

Posting higher prices for such products as bars, rods, wire and tubular items were U. S. Steel corporation, Bethlehem and Inland. U. S. Steel is the giant of the industry, Bethlehem the No. 2 producer and Inland No. 8.

They followed the lead set last week by Republic Steel, third-ranking producer, and other smaller firms.

For U. S. Steel it meant further abdication of its leadership role in price adjustments since World War II. Early last week Armco, No. 7, took the initiative by boosting prices on flat rolled products an average of $4.50 a ton.

U. S. Steel and Inland said its increases, effective today, average about three per cent. Bethlehem did not announce any specific figures for its list, which also included carbon and alloy blooms, billets and slabs.

Foresee Other Increases

Products on which new prices have been posted in the two rounds of adjustments represent about 60 per cent of the industry's annual tonnage output. Observers generally anticipate higher prices will be announced soon on the remaining items.

The increases to date have been estimated by the steel companies at from two and three-fourths to three per cent of the former prices, indicating an average boost of between $4 and $4.50 a ton.

Senatorial Fights

The fight for two senatorial berths highlights West Virginia's elections. The GOP incumbents, Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell, have no opposition.

But four Democrats have been locked in a tight struggle to win their party's nomination to run against Hoblitzell, who has been filling in for part of the term of the late Democratic Sen. Matthew Neely. The term has two more years.

Rep. Robert C. Byrd heads a list of three Democratic candidates for the right to oppose Revercomb for the 6-year term. West Virginia also has to make nominations for six house seats.

In Kansas, Democratic Gov. George Docking is unopposed for re-nomination, but five Republicans are seeking the GOP nod to run in November. They include former Gov. Fred Hall, who was denied re-nomination in 1956, and Clyde Reed, Jr., Parsons publisher who has strong organization backing. Kansas will nominate for six house positions.

Lana Turner Charges Copyright Infringement In Large Damage Suit

Hollywood—(U)—Copyright infringement is charged by actress Lana Turner in a $200,000 damage suit against two Hollywood writers.

She sued Terry Allen and Don S. Allen yesterday, claiming they rewrote a western screen play she purchased, "Listen for a Bugle," and turned it into a novel entitled "Ambush at Buffalo Wallow."

Her attorneys said the literary value of the screen play purchased from Nicholas Volpe, Vinton Frost and Bill George, has been destroyed, and she wants judgment equal to royalties on the novel, general damages of $200,000 and a declaration that none of the defendants has an interest in the screen play.

Ex-Convict Seeks Prison For Chance at Surgery; Still Has a Long Wait

Houston, Texas—(U)—Ohio ex-convict Bernie Ray Saville, who wants to go to federal prison so he can have an operation, is a step nearer his goal. But there's going to be some delay — perhaps 40 years.

Saville admitted stealing an expensive car July 9 in Akron, Ohio. He told a dealer he was driving home for the money to buy the car and didn't return.

He surrendered here July 14 and told officers he had been paroled while serving a 2-to-40-year term for forgery in Ohio.

Saville told U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally he took the car in order to land in a federal prison and obtain surgery, explaining: "The (Ohio) state prison won't do it."

Said Judge Connally: "I don't look with favor on a man who deliberately commits a felony. I sentence you to 18 months in prison, the sentence to be suspended until you finish your term in Ohio."

State Man Gets Post at Prison

Floyd Powell New Warden at Montana Institution

Helena, Mont.—(U)—Floyd E. Powell, administrative assistant to the warden of Wisconsin's state prison, Monday was appointed warden of the Montana state prison at Deer Lodge.

Gov. J. Hugo Aronson, who made the appointment, said Powell would arrive in Montana Aug. 24.

Powell placed second in a field of 71 candidates for the position.

Ray J. Stoffel, deputy warden of the Wisconsin prison, had placed first in the examinations, but he declined the appointment. Stoffel said family ties and a serious family illness prompted his decision.

The Montana prison warden receives $7,500 a year, a house and a food allowance. Powell will succeed William C. Benson, a Montana traffic patrol sergeant who has been acting warden since the resignation of F. O. Burrell.

Burrell resigned, claiming political interference in the wake of the bloodless prison riot and fire at Deer Lodge July 30-31 last year. Rioters grabbed several guards as hostages and made 21 demands for reforms. Burrell had been appointed by Gov. Aronson in 1953.

Robert D. Flack, 28, Wilkensburg, Pa., climbed to the top of the Ninth street bridge in Pittsburgh Monday night and threatened to leap into the Allegheny river. But he was grabbed from the span 100 feet above the river by firemen and police. They brought him down shackled with leg and hand irons. An aerial ladder was used. (AP Wirephoto)

Panama Lawyer Shot, Jack L. Warner, Film Tycoon, Hurt in Crash

Ruben Miro Never Gave Information About Killing of President Remon

Panama—(U)—Ruben Miro, who never made good on his promise to tell all he knew about the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon, survived a burst of gunfire from an unidentified automobile last night.

The dapper, 43-year-old lawyer sustained flesh wounds in his left chest and right arm, and a third bullet lodged in his right buttock. He drove himself to a hospital and his condition was described as not serious after removal of the bullet.

Miro told his brother Ricardo that he could not identify the car from which the assassination attempt was made. The police planned to question him when he felt better.

The attack occurred in front of Ricardo Miro's home as the lawyer was leaving after a visit.

Ruben told his brother he noticed a car parked behind his on the dark street. As he got behind the wheel of his automobile, the other car came abreast of him and a burst—apparently from a machine gun—rang out. There were seven bullet holes in the car.

Acquitted of Charge

Miro and six other defendants were acquitted last December of complicity in the 1955 machine gun slaying of President Remon. Both before and during the trial he promised to tell all he knew about the murder but never made any revelations.

After his release Miro spent two days in asylum in the Balboa police station, in the Panama canal zone under U.S. jurisdiction. His family made plans for him to leave the country but he decided to remain.

Acquittal of Miro and his codefendants resulted in the release of the only person convicted in connection with Remon's death. He was Jose Ramon Guizado, Remon's vice president who had succeeded to the presidency. Convicted by the national assembly as an accessory, he served nearly three years of a sentence of six years and eight months.

Car With 3 Bodies Pulled From River

Sudbury, Ont.—(U)—A car containing three bodies was pulled last night from the French river. Police believed it had plunged into the river two years ago from a bridge then under construction.

Neither the identities nor the sex of the three bodies could be established immediately, but the car was registered in the name of Philip King, 26, of Toronto.

Toronto police said King left there for Sudbury in 1956. They thought he was from Newfoundland originally. The car was found by a skin diver exploring the river bottom.

State Plane Crash Claims Third Victim

Ladysmith—(U)—John Kostal, 36, of North Riverside, Ill., has become the third victim of a plane crash July 27 when a pilot tried to make an emergency landing to avoid an approaching storm.

Kostal died in a hospital here Sunday night. Other victims of the crash were Donald Slawick, 42, the pilot, also of North Riverside; and Mrs. Libby Ulmsid, 23, of Berwyn, Ill. Her husband, Arnold, 32, was the only survivor. Hospital aids said he was in good condition.

Police Commissioner Edmond Rectus from Golfe-Juan went to the hospital, but was told Warner could not be seen.

Police issued an appeal to the driver of a small car preceding the truck to come forward and help them with information about the accident. The car did not stop.

Senate Rackets Unit To Question Hoffa On Extortion Charges

Teamsters Boss Recalled Only Day After Torture Burning of Official

BY G. MILTON KELLY

Washington—(U)—Senate rackets probes called President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters union today for questioning about alleged union-gangster conniving in extortion deals.

Hoffa's long-scheduled return to the witness stand followed by only a day the torture-burning of a minor Teamsters official who had appeared last fall before the special senate committee.

Among other things, Hoffa faced questioning about why he let his union keep Frank Kierdorf, the burned man, as a paid official after Kierdorf last November invoked the fifth amendment in refusing to answer committee questions.

Kierdorf refused at that time to tell the committee whether he had been involved in labor racket shakedowns or had "sold out" union members.

Woman's Testimony

The committee planned also to ask Hoffa for comment on testimony by Mrs. Nancy Dawson, a Detroit business woman, that a man representing himself as "Hoffa of the Teamsters" had threatened her with harm if she testified. Mrs. Dawson said last week she had no way of knowing who actually telephoned the threatening message.

The committee currently is investigating what Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) calls a nationwide conspiracy by gangsters and dishonest labor union officials to take over and dominate labor unionism and private business enterprises.

But the senate group and Hoffa are old adversaries. The committee has attempted to jail Hoffa, and has denounced him to the senate as a crook, a consort of racketeers and betrayer of union members. He has called committee members "phonies."

A federal court jury acquitted Hoffa last year of trying to bribe a committee aide. Hoffa also was acquitted this year of wire tap conspiracy charges, in a New York federal court trial.

Third Go-round

The current hearings mark the committee's third go-round with Hoffa on the witness stand. It takes up where it left off last Aug. 23 on the second round, when McClellan scornfully charged that Hoffa was feigning a lost memory.

Hoffa had pleaded repeatedly that "to the best of my recollection I can't recall" the facts about his alleged associations with New York racketeers John "Johnny Dio" Dioguardi, and dealings the committee denounced as at best shady.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said this time Hoffa will be on and off the witness stand for a period of days — perhaps weeks — with other witnesses on call through whom he hoped to jog Hoffa's memory if it still is bad.

Actress Makes Flying Trip to Trujillo Yacht

Los Angeles—(U)—Actress Lita Milan has made another flying trip to Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Jr.'s yacht. This one cost Trujillo $10,000.

The Brooklyn-born starlet and four other guests flew to Acapulco last Friday in a chartered 4-engine, 60-passenger airliner.

Western Air lines, which furnished the plane, pilot, copilot, navigator and stewardess, said Gen. Trujillo paid for the junket with a check made out to cash.

Miss Milan, who has been a frequent guest of the freespending Dominican Republic playboy, returned here yesterday so she could resume work in a movie. She said she didn't know when she'd see Trujillo again. The general is en route home, but, she said, "that boat has a slow engine on it."

Men Swipe Sign From Police Parking Lot

Charlotte, N. C.—(U)—Officer M. W. Hagler thought there was something familiar about the sign the three men were carrying up a Midtown street yesterday.

He called county police, who picked up the trio and the battered sign. It read "No Parking" and it came from the county police parking lot.

Charged with damage to property were Gerald Smith, 21, of Beaver, Pa.; Robert Crawford, 21, of Zanesville, Ohio; and Clyde Jackson, 36, of Caribou, Maine.

The three are attending a heavy equipment operators' school here.

8-Room Addition to School Probable

Interlake Land Use Could Solve Richmond Playground Problem

An 8-room addition to Richmond school entered the realm of probability Monday night after a joint meeting of the board of education and the common council's school advisory committee.

But, a lot of "ifs" remain before it can become a reality.

JOE MCCARTHY'S LAST DAYS

What was it like to jurch through the Senate halls in obcurity? What was it like between oblivion and death? Joe McCarthy, says the current issue of Esquire Magazine, was a moral vacuum. He lacked a belief in his own cause. His hysteria was for the birds. And he soon died because he could not lay off liquor. What could possibly cause the complete degeneration of a man who seemingly feared no one? Be sure to read the scorching report on Joe McCarthy, demagogue without a cause, in August ESQUIRE now on sale an architect making plans for a 4-room addition, but held up work when Ald. Thomas K. Schneider introduced a resolution in the council asking a study of the feasibility of adding eight rooms.

Schneider and other council members say adding eight rooms will provide space where needed without increasing the city's bonded indebtedness. It also will postpone the day when a new elementary school is needed on the east side, they anticipate.

Money Available
About $300,000 remains from the bond issue used to build Richmond and Lincoln schools. It is earmarked for that use and cannot be used elsewhere.

The principal objections of the school board are that the site — a little over two acres — is too small and cannot provide play area for the additional 120 children another four rooms would house. Richmond has a capacity of 210 now. Four new rooms would boost it to 330 and eight to 430.

This objection could be answered by using part of the Interlake park land belonging to Consolidated Water Power and Paper company for playground, Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said. The city is trying to acquire the land and should have a decision within 10 days, he added.

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann and the board agreed this would solve the playground problem, but said it would create a safety problem because children would have to cross E. John street to get to the play area. If the problem of safe access is solved by an underpass or some other method, school board members indicated a willingness to explore further.

Mann said original plans for the school called for a 4-room addition and he didn't know if the heating plant could handle eight more rooms.

Want Firm Commitment
School board members indicated they want a definite commitment on playground space before they will agree to an 8-room addition.

The question of using the bond issue money for a possible underpass was discussed and most aldermen and Mitchell said they doubted it could be done. However, Mrs. Myrl Davis said if one end of the tunnel was attached to the building it might be considered part of the school.

In addition to school use, if

Way Suggested to End Refrigerator Menace

Edgerton Tragedy Causes Official To Write Article

By Mrs. Katherine Oettinger, Editor, Children's Bureau Department of Health, Education and Welfare

Washington — (U) — I was horrified one recent morning to pick up my paper and find an Associated Press photo showing two suffocated children, found in an abandoned refrigerator at Edgerton, Wis. These deaths—which occur the land is purchased, Mitchell said, it also may be used for a swimming pool and a softball diamond.

Adding rooms to Foster school as suggested by Ald. Harold Hannemann is possible because the school was designed for possible addition of eight more rooms, Mann said. But, he said, more classrooms are needed elsewhere in the city more urgently, than in the Foster area.

The school board agreed to wait 10 days to see if the city will get the Interlake property. Mann was asked to contact Architect George Narovec and ask an opinion on the cost and advisability of adding eight rooms. Board members also want to know the cost of an underpass under John street.

all too frequently—are so unnecessary. Every time a child dies in an abandoned refrigerator, it means, to me, that a community has failed in its obligation to protect the lives of its citizens.

The congress, the Children's Bureau, other agencies of the department of health, education and welfare, the National Bureau of Standards, all have taken steps to rule out the possibility that children die needlessly in future icebox deaths.

Manufacturers of electrical appliances, by act of congress, are changing the design of refrigerators they now are manufacturing to incorporate a safety exit for any child who may be entrapped.

What can be done by federal law, by industrial cooperation, has been done. Some states have enacted preventive legislation to rule out the icebox hazard.

Two-fold Job
What remains to be done must be done by communities. It is a two-fold job.

1. The iceboxes which now are being abandoned, and, presumably, will continue to be abandoned, do not have safety exits. The public needs to be constantly and continually educated to the hazards these old refrigerators present to children.

2. The community needs to take steps to wipe out the hazard that now exists.

This is not a formidable job. Any community can undertake it. Perhaps a service club might take it on as a project.

For children cannot become entrapped in refrigerators without doors. And if, in every community, men would take whatever tools are necessary to remove the doors from abandoned iceboxes, the toll of children dying from suffocation in these boxes would vanish.

TV Cameraman Dies in Crash

Joseph Munn, WFRV Announcer, Seriously Hurt as Car Rolls

By The Associated Press
The deaths of a television cameraman and an Oconomowoc youth raised Wisconsin's 1958 traffic fatality toll to 432, compared with 475 on this day a year ago.

George Kimball, 24, cameraman for WFRV-TV at Green Bay, died in a hospital at Sturgeon Bay Monday night of injuries suffered in a highway crash Sunday night.

Joseph Munn, 30, who announces WFRV-TV's Saturday night "Shock Theater," received serious head injuries. Munn also is Channel 5's stage manager and master of ceremonies on the "Look or Listen" show. Munn was riding with Kimball. The pair was returning to Green Bay when the accident occurred on Highway 57 about 10 miles south of Sturgeon Bay. Both were taken to a Sturgeon Bay hospital.

Authorities said the car veered out of control and overturned in a wheat field. Kenneth Nack, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nack of Oconomowoc, was killed early today when an auto struck a tree beside Highway 67 about five miles north of Oconomowoc in Waukesha county. Another occupant of the auto, James Jardine, 17, Oconomowoc, was injured critically.

School Units Set Hearings

Joint Outagamie, Waupaca and Winnebago county school committees will meet at New London High school at 8 o'clock the evening of Aug. 18 to consider a petition by 39 electors of Joint School District 10 (Fountain Valley school), towns of Fremont and Caledonia, Waupaca county, asking detachment from the district and attachment to New London for all school purposes.

The committees will also take action on a petition by 12 electors in part of Joint District 10, now in the Weyauwega High school district, asking attachment to the New London school system.

Krueger Picks School Board Committees

Mrs. Myrl Davis, Franklin Jesse Named Chairmen

School Board President Edward V. Krueger Monday night appointed board members to two standing committees for the next two years. Named to the education committee were Mrs. Myrl Davis, chairman, Earl W. Harder and Franklin Jesse. Appointed to the business affairs committee were Franklin C. Jesse, chairman, John A. Schneider and Victor Sumnicht.

In other action, the board authorized Supt. of Schools John P. Mann to hire a librarian and an elementary teacher. It also accepted resignations from three teachers.

School Board Buys New Type Of Insurance

Takes $10,186,000 On Multiple Location Plan

The board of education, on its third try, believes it has purchased multiple location fire and extended coverage insurance on the city's 16 schools.

It tried to do so about a year ago, and again in June, but couldn't because not enough companies were writing that type of insurance to take care of the over $10 million needed. Since that time, more companies have filed for that type of coverage.

The board voted Monday night to buy $10,186,000 worth of insurance and pay the 5-year premiums in advance. It will cost $30,965 44.

Until the multiple location clause, the board will get about 33 1-3 per cent of the premiums rebated in advance. J. L. Swartout, Milwaukee, the board's insurance counselor, said. Under the old plan, the board could get a maximum of 21 9 per cent returned, and at the end of the 5-year period.

Group Plan
Under the multiple location plan, all schools will be insured as a group, instead of each individual school having separate coverage. A fire loss at any one or all schools would be covered by all insurance companies to the degree they are participating in the total coverage.

The board ordered the insurance purchased from the three companies authorizing their agents to extend this type of coverage. They are Employers Mutual of Wausau, Centennial Insurance company, New York, and Kansas City Fire and Marine.

Employers Mutual has agreed to take from 10 to 12 per cent of the total amount and the remainder will be divided between the other two. The Coffey Agency is the Appleton agent for both the Centennial company and Kansas City Fire and Marine. The Benson agency is the Appleton agent for Employers Mutual.

In order to take the new type insurance, the board rescinded its action of July 14, when it agreed to purchase straight fire and extended coverage.

Sidewalk Bid Accepted by Locks Board

John Van Cuyk
Only Bidder for Work in Village

Combined Locks — The sidewalk construction bid of John Van Cuyk, Kimberly, was accepted by the village board Monday night.

Van Cuyk submitted a bid of 35 cents per square foot for a new walk. He also bid 40 cents per square foot for tipping out old walk and installing new. Van Cuyk was the only bidder on the village work.

Under the village payment plan the sidewalk work will be a saving to the property owners. They will be able to have sidewalk installed for 87 1/2 cents per foot of frontage compared with 90 cents in the past.

County Road Rough In other action the board instructed the clerk to write a letter to Supervisor Dan Williams requesting him to ask the county board to do something about the rough condition of County Trunk Z which runs through the village.

Board members received the recommendation of the street committee that the road needs resurfacing. Williams also will be asked to check on the intersection of Prospect street and the Darby road. The corner is a 3-way intersection and board members felt there should be another traffic sign installed. By a 4 to 3 vote the board agreed to let the village Rifle club use the pavilion basement as a firing range. The board had ordered the club to stop shooting because the pavilion was not cleaned up after shooting. Those members voting against the club using the basement said they figured the club had been given chance enough.

These Days

Khrushchev Attitude, Publicity Against Success of Summit Meet

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

As far back as July 12 Nikita Khrushchev warned us, in a speech in Moscow, that any summit conference that he would attend would have to be limited to the subjects which he wished to discuss. He said:

"The United States and its partners have put forward their questions for inclusion on the agenda of a summit conference. Let us see, comrades, what questions these are. They propose, for example, to examine the so-called question of the situation in the people's democracies of Europe. Every person, even one not versed in politics, understands that to put forward such questions at a meeting of heads of government means to lead matters to a disruption of the conference. You must remember, gentlemen, whom you are going to meet."

In other words, he will refuse to discuss the pogroms in Hungary, the intervention by Soviet Russia in Arabian affairs, the danger to Turkey and Iran, the Russian spread into Afghanistan. He would only discuss what might be disadvantageous to "the United States and its partners."

Then he said:

"How can it be suggested that we, communists, will agree to take part in a discussion with representatives of capitalist states on the question of how to liquidate the socialist system in one state or another? Whom do you take us for and what are you thinking about if you raise the question in such a way?"

However, there is nothing wrong, from his point of view, about discussing the death of capitalism or even the death of the United States. This is what he said on July 12:

"We do not need war. The socialist states are growing rapidly developing states. There is a young, healthy organism, and it is to the young and growing that the future invariably belongs. We need peace to build a new society. Our countries have everything they need for this purpose."

"Very much to the point was what our Chinese friends say: 'Socialism is the morning sun rising in the east and capitalism is the evening sun setting in the west.'"

Of course, as the Soviet propaganda machine works hard to achieve Khrushchev's end, which is to force President Eisenhower and Prime Minister MacMillan to act as background puppets for his strutting across the stage of world affairs, many say, "Well, why not, if it will solve something." The answer is in this very long speech delivered on July 12 of this year when the head of the Czech communist party, Antonin Novotny, visited Moscow. That speech is loaded with leads to Khrushchev's thinking, and it has undoubtedly been studied by every government that is imperilled by the very existence of Soviet Russia.

Long - Range Communication After all, governments have for thousands of years communicated with each other, even on the important questions, without direct, vis-a-vis meetings of the heads of states. Until Woodrow Wilson went to Paris, no American president left this country to negotiate a treaty. Franklin D. Roosevelt followed Wilson's precedent; Harry Truman did it once, to Potsdam and then he thought better of it. Eisenhower has been a mover-shaker, but not as much as his secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, whose peripatetic habits are second only to those of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Foreign ministers and ambassadors exist for such negotiations as are necessary, and a meeting of the heads of states can only be of value after thorough preparations. Besides, these summit conferences nowadays are bound to be like an aquarium with the big fish swimming about in the sight of a thousand newspapermen and cameramen. How can any negotiations or bargaining take place under such conditions? The conversation must be more restricted at such open meetings because there is more responsibility.

An American president or a British prime minister is not as free an agent as Khrushchev is. They are restricted by constitutional prerogatives and limitations and their press at home would blast them for such conduct as Khrushchev permitted himself at the last such meeting in Geneva. It would be well-worth Khrushchev's time to read Herbert Hoover's study of Woodrow Wilson to realize what an American president is up against when he tries to do something that does not conform to public opinion at the moment.

Run Record Set In Softball Loop

Kimberly — Shy's Bar set a record for run output in the 16-inch softball league when it scored a 45 to 17 victory over Bill's Bar.

The winners put together a 40-base hit attack that saw them score in every inning. Quentin Williams was the winning hurler.

Shy's scored seven in the first and followed in order with five, one, two in each of the next three frames, 10, five and 11.

Bills had a pair of runs in the first, one in the fourth, three in the fifth, six in the eighth and five in the ninth.

Elwood Harke and Don Bouersa had nine hits each for the winners. Harke's hits included three homers.

LC-K Plays 2 Loop Tilts, Enters Tourney This Week

Little Chute — The Little Chute-Kimberly baseball team will meet two Fox Valley league foes and open play in the state semi-pro meet at Milwaukee County stadium this week.

Wednesday night, Manitowoc; front running club in the league, will be the opponent and Thursday night the long ball hitting Reedsville club will be the foe. Both games will be played under the lights at the Kimberly field.

The state meet will open Friday with first round games slated for Friday and Saturday. Time and opponent for the LC-K team have not been announced. Pairings were to be selected this afternoon at Milwaukee. Last year the Little Chute club was runnerup in the meet.

In FVL competition, LC-K has three straight wins in the second round. For the season they have a 17-2 record.

Manitowoc swept its first four games in second round play and is currently the league's leader. LC-K will have a chance to take over the top rung on the ladder with a win Wednesday.

Reedsville has been running into tough luck, getting a good run output but lacking a strong mound staff to keep opponents in check.

Al Harke is the probable pitcher for the Papermakers slated for Friday and Saturday. Bob Schmidt or Faye Mehlberg will work the Reedsville game. Chances are it will be Mehlberg in order for Schmidt to get a good rest for the tournament. Schmidt tossed a three-hit shutout against Kaukauna Sunday afternoon.

3 Teams Tie For Lead in Peewee Loop

Phillies, Pirates And Cubs Unbeaten in Kimberly League

Kimberly — Three teams are tied for first place in the second round of playground Peewee baseball league action, according to Gil Frank, director.

The Cubs, Phillies and Pirates have identical 2-0 records to share the lead.

The Cubs topped the Giants 9 to 2 behind the strong pitching of Bob Eiting. Jim Schelfhout was the losing hurler for the Giants.

The Phillies kept pace with the Cubs by tipping the Cards 12 to 3. It was the second straight win for the Phillies who did not have a victory in the first half of play.

Terry Subert Wins Terry Subert got credit for the win and Chuck Meyer paced the hitting for the Phillies. The Cards used three hurlers in the game.

The Pirates dropped the first half champion Dodgers by a 3 to 0 score as Coley Smith pitched a two hit shutout. Darrell Remmel was the loser. Smith drove in both of his team's runs to set the offensive pace.

In another loop tilt the Redlegs topped the Braves by a 20 to 2 score. Bob Van Gompel was the winning pitcher and Bill Lamers the loser.

Big blow of the game was a grand slam homer for Cooper Reider of the Reds in the first inning. The winners had nine runs in the first inning and 10 in the second.

Sunset Point Parking Area Is Discussed

Plans Call for Additional Space At Kimberly Park

Kimberly — The problem of additional parking facilities for the Sunset Point park received the attention of the village board Monday night.

Board members said that at a recent band concert given by the Community band there was not room for the large number of vehicles to park.

President Alvin Fuller pointed out that there will be more parking area provided when work is completed at the park. Plans call for a large level area to be finished off as parking area.

Cinder Complaint Another problem that was discussed was the use of cinders on slippery streets in winter months. One businessman said they made the village look like a mess in the winter and people on foot tracked them in wherever they went. The maintenance committee agreed to check the cost of other materials that could be used and will report back to the board.

The William Verhagen post No. 60 of the American Legion thanked the village in a letter for the help of the various departments in making its annual picnic of the post a success.

lured from his home and driven to a lonely woods where his sadistic captors poured an inflammable liquid on him and touched a match. Told His Story The younger Kierdorf told his story to George F. Taylor, assistant Oakland county prosecutor, late yesterday and repeated it "substantially the same" today. Taylor said Kierdorf today gave him a lead to the torture scene, outside Pontiac, but it was not located immediately. Kierdorf said the two men came to his house in nearby Flint late Sunday night and asked him to go with them on some union organizing business. They pulled a gun when they got him in their car, took him to the woods, burned him and then dumped him half dead in front of a Pontiac hospital. Doctors said it was amazing he still was alive. He had been burned over 85 per cent of his body. His arms, chest and legs were a mass of raw, black blisters. His hair had been burned off and his face was puffed twice its normal size. 'You Get Hurt' A son, Frank Jr., 30, who identified his father, said tearfully: "when you play rough, you get hurt sometimes." Kierdorf, 56, was business agent for teamsters local 332 at Flint. His 63-year-old uncle was business agent for the Teamsters joint council 32 in Detroit and was an aide of Teamsters Boss James R. Hoffa. Herman vowed to seek vengeance for the horrible torture inflicted upon his nephew, despite the pleas of police that he let them handle the case. The blading, heavy-set Kierdorf said: "I don't have any idea who did it, but I'm going to find out." Lieut. William W. Nesbitt of the Pontiac police department pleaded with Kierdorf to "let us take care of this one." But Herman shook his head and snapped: "Not if I get there first. I know it sounds silly, but I got to do it."

was no reason to keep it going. Informants in Amman, who refused to be named, said yesterday they believed Soviet pressure caused Israel to deny airspace to the British and Americans.

British Policy

Leading newspapers in Israel said, however, that a Soviet protest note to Israel was not the reason for Israel's action. These papers said Israel does not want to become involved in Britain's present policy in the Middle East. Israeli policy makers, said the daily Haaretz, are doubtful British intervention will prevent Jordan's disintegration. The daily said the situation had changed since immediately after the July 14 coup in Iraq when it seemed "the western powers, were Thurgood Marshall, chief attorney for the NAACP, said the school board was derelict in that it failed to take proper disciplinary measures against trouble - making white students.

But Butler maintained the school board, which drew up the Little Rock plan of gradual integration, made a conscientious effort to comply with the supreme court decision.

A. F. House, another Little Rock attorney for the board, accused the Eisenhower administration of failing to give the board needed help in enforcing integration at Central high.

Presidential Pensions Voted

It seems likely that legislation finally will be approved during this term of congress giving pensions of $25,000 per year to former Presidents Hoover and Truman and to all future ex-presidents.

The House passed the bill after acrimonious debate which touched off applause and boos but otherwise served no purpose except to mark certain congressmen as motivated by political prejudice and hate. The bill finally was passed by a standing vote, 165 to 45. The large majority probably is no less than the measure would receive if a poll of the people was taken.

The matter of pensions for former presidents has been before the nation for discussion for no less than 100 years. It is well understood by everyone and it is difficult to think of a valid reason for opposing it. On the other hand, there are numerous reasons for supporting the measure. The most important is that a former president should be financially independent and thus able to uphold the dignity of this high office even in retirement.

The position of former president is a powerful one and in case of dire necessity could be used to bring not only a means of livelihood but possibly great wealth to its holder. No former presidents have sacrificed the dignity of their position for financial gain. However, the picture of former President Grant desperately writing his memoirs while in ill health to pay off debts and support himself during the last months of his life, always comes to mind when presidential pensions are mentioned.

The Senate last year passed a presidential pension bill which included grants of free office space, clerical help and free mailing privileges. These additional benefits were stripped from the House measure and so the bill must go back to the Senate again.

It is to be hoped that no trifling differences in the bills will prevent the final passage at this session. Further, it will be well if both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Truman accept the pensions although they may not need the money. The general acceptance of the pensions by all former presidents will make it easier for some future former president who may, through some particular circumstance, really need this help.

Farm Plan a la Flynn

Mr. Gerald Flynn is a lawyer at Racine and a candidate for the Democratic party's nomination for congressman in the first Wisconsin district, which adjoins Illinois and includes five southern Wisconsin counties. Mr. Flynn is a man of considerable attainment, but we suspect that his public services will be best remembered for the "farm plan" which he has just unveiled for the voters of his prospective constituency.

Mr. Flynn's plan has several virtues, not the least of which is its simplicity. He says the farm price problem is a simple one. It results from the fact that farmers are producing too much. There are too many farmers and too many farms. But Mr. Flynn doesn't offer yet another of the infinitely complex and mysterious formulas for meeting the situation that the orthodox politician has tossed at us with such fertility for so long. Mr. Flynn is a plain man. The government, he says forthrightly, should buy up enough surplus farm land to permit the surviving farmers to get prices sufficient to assure profitable operations.

While we marvel at Mr. Flynn's genius for illuminating this perennial issue, we are a little skeptical about him at the same time.

We suspect, in fact, that as a city bred man he is a good deal like the editorial writer, or many another urban citizen who tries to get posted on the events and issues of the day. He has become so confused by the plethora of "expert" solutions in this field that he has decided to get to the root of the matter with the plain man's directness.

Considered alone, the Flynn plan makes a good deal of sense. A little simple arithmetic will show that at the rate we have been dispensing farm relief from the federal treasury, even such a vast acreage as the 50,000,000 proposed by this candidate could be bought outright in a relatively few years. Then the deed would be done. All of the existing farm relief proposals involve permanent subsidies, whether their authors admit the fact or not.

But while we concede that Mr. Flynn's proposition has ventilated this tiresome subject with some refreshing frankness, the farmer and taxpayer who are the central characters in this tussling for votes may have some questions. Who will choose the farm to be put out of production? A Washington bureaucrat? Who will put a value on it? A Washington bureaucrat? Will we have, as a consequence, another farmer resettlement program? Or will the retired farmer be put on pension? Finally, if Mr. Flynn reduces the number of farmers to a level that will force higher prices for scarce foodstuffs and fibre, what will the consumer say? Will we then have a new plan for the relief of the housewife at the store counter, as some liberals have already proposed more or less seriously? It is a complicated business, this solicitation of votes on the basis of governmental paternalism.

Twice-Crossed Path

The intricacies spun by war are many and unpredictable. Take the case of a young German who was drafted into the German Navy during World War II.

During the darker days of the war the U. S. Navy did something that hadn't happened since the battles of John Paul Jones. It boarded and captured intact an enemy ship. The craft was the German submarine U-505 and the young sailor was a member of its crew.

Unable to dive their sub in time to evade capture, the Germans managed to open hatches and cocks in an attempt to scuttle the ship and keep it out of American hands. But an American boarding party was too quick and the covers were replaced. The German crew tried to escape but only one did—by drowning. The others, including the young sailor, were taken to the United States and sent to prison camps for the duration. At the end of the war they all returned to the Fatherland.

Meanwhile the U-505 was towed several hundred miles to Bermuda. The whole capture was a secret and the submarine was reported in Germany as officially lost with all hands. The U. S. Navy was able to study, not only the workings of the sub, but the charts of shipping lanes, the codes and the plans of action of the deadly German U-boat campaign.

After the war the U-505 was towed through lakes and canals to Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. It is on display, may be toured by visitors and a film showing its capture is presented.

And there last month, the young German sailor met the craft on which he had served for many weeks. Employed by the museum, he will help in the care of the U-505 and describe from a slightly different point of view the events which led to its capture.

Truman in No Position To Criticize Adams Case

From the New Orleans States

Since humility is no outstanding characteristic of former president Harry S. Truman, he is running true to form when he takes a left-handed swipe at the Eisenhower administration and the Sherman Adams case.

En route home from a European visit, he said "the lack of ethics in the White House and the corruption in other high places in Washington should not divert public attention from the much more important failures and bunglings of the administration."

What he tries to do, actually, is to use the Adams affair to swing the political tar brush over everything in the administration of the man Truman importuned to become the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952.

Ethics in government?

The ex-president should be an authority. His appointments secretary, Matthew J. Connelly, and his head of the tax division of the department of justice, T. Lamar Caudle, are in the news currently as they fight two-year prison terms in a tax-fixing conspiracy.

The ex-president's White House aide, Donald Dawson, who was also an official of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was subject of a senate probe for receiving favors from a hotel which received an RFC loan. Mr. Truman's commissioner of internal revenue, Joseph D. Nunan Jr., was convicted of tax evasion. And there were the Truman military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, of home-freezer notoriety; E. Merl Young, a RFC examiner who was convicted of perjury and whose wife got the royal pastel mink; Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, who awarded contracts to his own firm and was convicted on two charges.

Mr. Truman's glass house should make him drop all his stones, but he'd be the last man to realize it.

End of Post-War Flush Years Makes Skill in Selling Again Necessary

From the Sheridan, Wyo., Press

At the moment reports on business and economic recovery from the recession are showing that the slump is bottoming-out. Many of the experts are predicting that the recession has flattened, and that after a period of leveling-off the upturn will begin, slowly but certainly.

That is a hopeful and encouraging forecast. There are excellent reasons for believing that it is about as accurate as it is possible to be on business conditions. But that outlook merely adds emphasis to the recommendations of a first-rate salesman who had some helpful proposals to offer. What follows is based on the formula which was proposed by Harry Doniger of the McGregor-Doniger firm of New York. The firm produces and sells men's clothing and the observations were made at a retail clinic at the University of Tennessee.

"There is nothing wrong with business in this country that a good dose of old-fashioned 'selling' won't help," the New Yorker declared.

He pointed out that for a long time after World War II there was a scarcity of goods. At the same time a lot of money was in circulation, buying power was high, and prices were not important to people.

More recently, however, things changed after nearly two decades of a rising surge of buying and a comparative scarcity of goods. A jeweler recently said he realized there had been a change when men started asking the price of watches before making a selection. During the most flush times, war workers and others, who had a lot to spend, picked out the watch and then asked the price.

Men, formerly hard-hitting salesmen before the war, no longer had to use their talents during the flush years. They became order-takers. Although some disliked such a selling system, they had no choice. As a result of that experience some of them lost their great talent for selling.

But the order-taking of the

No Time Set for End of History

From the Dallas Morning News

Believing the Bible teaches that history will end as it began in the Middle East, evangelist Billy Graham says "all we can do is sit back and pray."

Holy writ offers no time schedule for the end of human history. Prayer is always in order. But no man knows just when Armageddon is ticketed to be fought. In the face of the present troubles in Lebanon and Iraq, it is doubtful that we are expected to act like sitting ducks on the assumption that this is it.

Looking Backward

Hammels Noted Horse Dealers

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 9, 1879.

Only a short while ago, the Messrs. D. Hammel and Co. brought on four carloads of horses from Illinois, which in an incredible brief space of time they disposed of to farmers and business men in Door, Kewaunee, Shawano and Outagamie counties, at remunerative prices and mostly on long time and low rate of interest.

The business of this firm in this line is constantly increasing, for the reason that they buy only good stock to sell, and they have never misrepresented matters to customers, giving them all the time they desire to pay in. They frequently extend payments to suit the customers, seldom or ever foreclosing a piece of mortgaged property.

David Hammel has gone south to purchase more horses. Mr. Fred Hammel, also in the same business, it doesn't fit. Selling things has returned to its old-time favor and those who do the best selling jobs are those who succeed. Automobile salesmen, real estate salesmen, merchandise salesmen, life insurance salesmen, in fact everyone who sells goods and services to the public, today must know what they have to sell and must convince prospective buyers that the goods or services offered will benefit the users.

Salesmen and saleswomen are learning and relearning many of the little extra courtesies and the kindnesses that once were expected of sales people. They are earnestly trying, in most cases, to put selling on the list of top-paying skills in almost every vigorous and healthy organization and business. That is a good sign.

Unfortunately broke his leg while shipping stock and will not be on his feet again for some time yet.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1933
Appleton retail stores were to begin operating under a code regulating the hours and wages of employees.

Articles of incorporation of the Municipal Credit Union, an organization formed by members of the Appleton Fire department, were filed at the office of the register of deeds.

W. J. Kluge, who was attending the annual convention of Wisconsin Retail grocers in Madison, was appointed a member of the auditing committee.

A group of Appleton's "stout" men organized the Stylish Stout Defensive league and planned to wage a war against all "wise-cracks" directed at their size. Club members were angry over the constant remarks made about their avoirdupois. One of the methods to be used in combating their "enemies" was to keep in mind a series of sharp retorts, designed to sting the other into silence and warn him that these remarks must cease.

Three members of the county income tax board of review were reappointed by the Wisconsin Tax commission. They were A. H. Krugmeier and E. A. Dettman, Appleton, and Joseph Le-fevre, Kaakauna.

Under the Capitol Dome

Some Republicans Sour on Thomson

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The veteran of a score of Wisconsin political campaigns, an old-fashioned Republican type, was distressed.

He had traveled widely in the state during the last few months, talked to many hundreds of persons of some acquaintance with public affairs, and he had found a lack of enthusiasm, as he put it, for the candidacy of Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, the leader of the Republican state administration now preparing to fight to stay in power.

He also was puzzled, he admitted. There seemed to be, as he traveled about, no special pattern to the reserve about the Republican governor. His questions about specifics brought no replies. But he had concluded that many of the usual neighborhood leaders who had "put out" for the GOP in the past might not do so with much energy this year and that some of them might quietly boycott the ticket altogether. Why, he wanted to know?

WHY?

These are the eternally fascinating questions about politics, and the eternally unanswerable questions.

Anybody who pretends to know is probably bluffing. But there are some clues that may be worth reflecting upon.

In the first place, it is fairly evident that these reservations have not been caused by any response of the moderates or conservatives who used to predominate in the Wisconsin electorate to the appeals of Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic challenger. Nelson's campaign, in the view of the most neutral observers, has not yet got off the ground, in political parlance.

If Nelson beats Thomson, it won't be because of his campaign, his personality or anything directly attributable to him, but it will be by default. There would be nothing uncommon about that. Other governors have won the same way, and notably Loomis in 1942.

The comments of representative Republicans in unguarded moments suggests that there is some doubt, and sometimes some annoyance, because the Republican governor is not the kind of politician he was thought to be when he was promoted for his high office. This has nothing to do with his competence, or his integrity, or the record of his legislation as such.

Rather, it involves attitude. Thomson once was the "Republicans' Republican." He was the strong partisan, the ever ready fighter, the champion of the party philosophy.

Now he appears to be playing down the partisan cause, surrendering a point here and there of the party credo, apparently resolved to touch up the picture of himself that was accepted when the Republicans gave him a nomination and a significant boost into his office two years ago.

BROADER APPEAL?

The governor has seemed bent upon broadening the base of his support, with conscious approaches to that great unaffiliated body of citizens who are not formally Republicans or Democrats but probably control Wisconsin elections. He may be following the normal instinct of the governor to leave a favorable historical record as servant "of all the people." There is also a good chance that he has observed the realignment of party politics in Wisconsin in recent years, as so painfully exemplified by his narrow election two years ago, and concluded that some change in classical tactics is necessary.

In any event, the governor is clearly aware of the uncertainties of his future. No governor in my memory has campaigned so relentlessly, has punished himself in physical effort quite as brutally.

He is working so hard to keep his office that he has very little time to enjoy it.

Surplus Dumping Hurts Foreign Export Markets

From the Dallas Texas Morning News

One of the complaints that took President Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles to Canada was that against our foreign dumping of vast surpluses of wheat. Wheat is Canada's biggest crop and biggest export. When we dump wheat abroad, either giving it away or selling it at cut prices, we hurt the normal markets of Canada, Argentina and Australia.

Likewise, when we dump rice abroad, we cripple the export business of Burma, Thailand and Indochina. Those countries depend on rice exports to balance their economies. They suffer business depressions when they can't sell their rice. And when we dump eggs and dairy products, we alienate the Scandinavian countries.

If we merely sold our surpluses abroad at market prices, the other countries would have no ground to complain of the competition. But we don't do that. The farm subsidies adopted by the Roosevelt administration have brought such enormous government-held surpluses that those hardly can be marketed abroad under normal conditions. So the storages are dumped at great loss to taxpayers here and at the cost of driving away friends that we need on our side in the cold war.

The remedy is to reduce the subsidies that give rise to the big surpluses and to get the government out of the business of buying and exporting farm crops. Then the people of other lands no longer will have reason to complain of our unfair competition.

Embassy Avenue's Way of Life Its Own

East, West Cluster Together in Two Sets of World Groupings

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — Massachusetts avenue in Washington is a way of life within itself.

This is the street on which stand most of the world's embassies to the United States. A few are quarantined elsewhere — the Russians, for example, in a gloomy, closed-up looking stone mansion on Sixteenth street.

Massachusetts avenue, at all events, is the hub of all this diplomacy, the center for the practice of an ancient art that has two main functions. The first of these is to represent here the interests of the visiting diplomat's country. The second is, less directly, to explain this country to the diplomat's own country. Basically, it is the operation, in a polite way, of an intelligence system.

The diplomatic community is one of the largest self-contained industries here. Its personnel number uncouped thousands. Each official or foreign worker in an embassy is, for official purposes, in his own country. The British embassy, for example, is legally a bit of England, as is the French embassy of France.

Embassy people are not subject to arrest, except on grave charges and through special country-to-country arrangements. Their automobiles bear plates on which the letters "DPL" signify that it is no use putting parking tickets on them. The local people sometimes have no lively appreciation of these special privileges, which do not apply to a senator or a supreme court justice.

Far the biggest is the British establishment. It is a red-brick, rambling and sprawling structure with a touch of the old manor about it. Nearby are the embassies of some members of the British commonwealth. Australia and New Zealand are back of the British embassy on the same side of the street. They are very close in every sense to what could be called the home house of the commonwealth.

Across the street and infinitely farther away than the short physical distance would indicate — is the embassy of the Union of South Africa. South Africa, under its present Dutch-descended Boer and nationalist leadership, is a somewhat reluctant jewel in the British crown. It likes to be aggressively independent of London.

Draw Together

Embassy life here is like international political life everywhere in the present state of the cold war. The western diplomats draw together even more than commonly they would. The Russians, their satellites and quasi-friends tend to get into the other social and professional camp.

There is, of course, still a social interchange between west and east, but not on a very clubby basis. Both embassy sets — west and east — have a good deal to do with local people. The westerners' dinners are much more fun; the Russians' dinners are much more grand.

The presence of two sets of world groupings — the western alliance in which the United States is chairman of the board and the eastern monolith in which the Soviet Union is simply the boss — has simplified the practice of diplomacy.

More and more the ambassador's home office makes the real decisions. More and more it is his job mainly to carry out these decisions in this country. This is not the era of the application of persuasion: it is more nearly the era of the application of force. (Copyright, 1958)

U.S., French Oil Experts Do Not Agree

BY ANDREW BOROWIEC

Hassi Messaoud, Algeria — A score of veteran American oilmen are helping build an oil empire in the Sahara sands with little faith in the success of the venture.

"We were brought here to teach Frenchmen the oil business but no one listens to us," is a standard complaint of American oilmen here.

All complain of a bitter anti-American feeling throughout this oil site where 3,000 men work in the middle of the Sahara to realize France's dream of becoming an oil nation.

Critical of French

"They act as if we were here to take over their oil," said a tool pusher from Los Angeles who asked that his name not be used. "All I can say is they can have it. The way they run things here, there won't be anything left here in a year but sand and abandoned derricks."

Many Americans working here believe that the potentialities of the Hassi Messaoud field have been exaggerated for political purposes, but Derrick Supv. Paul R. Downs of Bakersfield, Calif., says "It's an oil field that can produce."

There is a lot of bitterness toward the U.S. oilmen among young French engineers and technicians, many of whom fear that their lack of experience is too obvious alongside veterans from Texas and California.

"They (Americans) act as if they were supermen," complained one Frenchman. "They can't believe anybody can do anything better than they."

"The French are jealous of our skill and our experience," said an American technician. "After all, we've been in the oil business for 100 years and they only 5. And they refuse to understand this."

Car Thieves Placed Under Supervision

3 Also Told to Pay For Damage Done On Autos They Stole

Five youths involved in car thefts have been placed under supervision of the Outagamie county welfare department and private welfare agencies by County Judge Stanley A. Staidl.

A 14-year-old, one of three involved in one of the thefts, has been sent to Waukesha school for boys. The other two, 18 and 16, were ordered to make $83.33 restitution each for damage done to the car.

The boys were caught after a state patrolman followed them at speeds up to 75 miles an hour on Highway 10 into Appleton June 9. When the youths got into the city, they slowed the car to about 10 miles an hour near N. Badger and W. Wisconsin avenues and jumped out of the car. The state patrolman had to curb the car. The state patrolman had curb the car to stop it and the youths escaped. They were taken into custody the next day.

The 18-year-old was placed under supervision of the Appleton Apostolate, the 16-year-old under the welfare department, both for two years.

Stole Two Cars

A 15-year-old who stole two cars May 29, doing $40.22 damage to the transmission of one, was put under welfare department supervision for two years and ordered to make restitution. He was caught by a state patrolman when he stalled a stolen car at Highway 41 and 10.

He damaged another car by driving it near the Appleton Senior High School in low gear and leaving the motor running.

A 15-year-old boy was put under supervision of the Apostolate for two years and his 14-year-old companion under the supervision of the Neenah Apostolate for a year for their theft of a car and a drive north in May.

The boys stole a car from a parking lot at S. Allen and W. Lawrence streets and decided to drive to Canada. They got into the upper peninsula and turned around at Covington, Mich. They drove the car into a wooded area and got stuck near Rhinelander, where the sheriff took them into custody May 19.

Kroger Company Slates Review of Dividend Policy

Cleveland — Directors of Kroger company will review the company's dividend policy at the October meeting, Joseph B. Hall, president, said.

There were reports last year and early this year that a stock split or a dividend increase or both were likely during 1958. Hall declined to predict what will transpire at the October meeting but indicated these subjects will be on the agenda.

In question, in addition to a split, is whether the company will continue to pay the 4 per cent stock dividend at year end it has paid in the last two years or increase its cash payment. Quarterly payments have been 50 cents a share.

Concerning the sales and earnings outlook, the official said, "We're still estimating 1958 sales at 8 per cent to 8 1/2 per cent ahead of last year."

Asked whether earnings will rise in a proportion equal to sales, Hall said, "They have so far." But he declined to predict specifically the extent of earnings improvement for the year.

A rise of 8 per cent or more in sales would put Kroger volume for the year at a record-topping $1.8 billion or better, compared with $1.674,123,593 in 1957. Earnings last year were $20,635,207, or $5.10 a share.

For the four weeks ended July 12 Kroger sales were 3.4 per cent ahead of the like period of 1957. For the 28 weeks ended on that date sales totaled $984,014,234, a rise of 8 per cent.

Krambo Food Stores are part of the Kroger chain.

Order Downtown Storm Sewer Plan

Forerunner to Rebuilding of Avenue, at Least in Stages

BY JIM NEWCOMB
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Appleton engineering department Monday was ordered to prepare plans for construction of storm sewers throughout the College avenue business district, a forerunner to reconstruction of the avenue, at least in stages.

Former Mayor Robert L. Roemer, in years past, urged the council at committee sessions to look ahead to reconstruction of College avenue. It always was said, in conjunction with his statements, that storm sewers would be constructed in the downtown area at that time.

There now are no storm sewers downtown. Storm and other clear waters are fed into sanitary sewers, a condition which is forbidden by state law and which has resulted in flooded basements in business district buildings during some rains.

Air Conditioning
Increased use of water-using air conditioning equipment in the large Aid Association for Lutherans' building, the new J. C. Penney company store, the proposed H. C. Prange company store, the planned Conway hotel addition and other buildings has intensified the problem.

Street and sanitation committee cited the growing use of air conditioning Monday when they ordered storm sewer plans drafted.

There was little discussion beyond an expression of need, but Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said financing and/or field conditions probably will require scheduling of the work in stages. Storm sewers are constructed without assessment to property owners, but all costs of street work usually are assessed against owners of business property.

While Roemer confined his talk of reconstruction to a report on deterioration of the street surface, the so-called Barton Report on the city's primary streets made some observations in 1955 which would evoke considerable controversy if advanced seriously.

"So far as traffic capacity is concerned," said the report, "College avenue is the only street in the city which is capable, by itself, of carrying the bridge (College-to-Candee) traffic; it is doing it today. Except for S. Memorial drive, College avenue has a wider right-of-way, 96 feet, than any other principal street in the city. By converting from angle to parallel parking and by removing parking on the approach to signals to allow for turning movements, College avenue could, if desired, carry all the traffic foreseen by 1975 originating from the east of the business district in areas both east and west of the Fox river."

J. R. Whitman, chairman of the chamber of commerce's parking committee, in April told the Optimist club he doubts there ever will be a switch from angle to parallel parking on the avenue.

The move, he said, would cut the number of parking spaces in half and "it's a lot harder to park cars parallel. A fellow finds a place, starts maneuvering and then you have traffic jams, horns honking."

There is a disadvantage the Barton Report said, in overemphasizing College avenue as a business street.

Good for Business
"Commercial establishments have grown," the report said, "on College avenue until they extend . . . a distance of 8½ blocks, until the district begins to resemble a ribbon development." It appears to the advantage of businessmen to resist the further elongation of the business district, seeking instead action which will encourage a greater concentration through growth to the north and to the south to produce a compact commercial area in which walking distances are held to a minimum.

As Appleton grows and its central business district expands, less parking space will be found at the curb and a greater portion in off street areas."

Duszynski reported the storm sewer plan also will uncover need for more, or replacement of, sanitary sewers.

Reconstruction of the avenue surface has been tied to the sewer work because sewer work will require tearing up of the street and the street, in places, will need repair anyway.

Nothing has been said to pin down exactly where street reconstruction can be expected.

Fined for Drunkenness
Betty P. Jochimsen, 41, Oshkosh, was fined $20 in municipal court today for drunkenness. She was arrested by Appleton police.

Ask Council to Deny Reinkes' $10,000 Claim

The city council Wednesday night will be asked to deny the $10,000 claim of Mr. and Mrs. George Reinkes in the death of their son at Erb park swimming pool June 28.

The denial, recommended Monday by the finance committee, would set the stage for court action by the Reinkes, 1219 S. Kernan avenue.

Their son, George, drowned, the Reinkes charge, because the pool "was improperly operated and supervised by the city . . . and was so constructed and maintained . . . as to constitute a nuisance."

No Insurance
The city has no liability insurance to cover the claim, having taken bids for such insurance for the first time last Tuesday.

City officials, until recent court decisions indicated otherwise, never felt need of liability insurance. They took the attitude a city could not be sued.

If the Reinkes go to court, they will be the third family in the last three years to seek court settlement.

The other two families sued for damages in connection with drinking of raw sewage in Bellaire park ravine by their young sons, an incident which allegedly killed one of them. The city was ordered, after trial, to pay a total of $8,023.10 to the two families.

Denies Drunken Driving Charge

George C. Plowman, 48, 2073 S. Walnut street, today in municipal court denied that he drove while drunk and posted $118.95 bond for trial Oct. 1.

Plowman was arrested after he forced County Policeman Calvin Spice's patrol car off Highway 41 near N. Meade street about 1:30 Sunday morning. Spice said he followed Plowman to N. Oneida street and Highway 41 and stopped Plowman after he drove in the wrong lane part of the way.

Two young children, riding in their parents' cars, were slightly injured Monday in separate accidents.

Cars driven by Harry Armistage, 70, route 2, Hortonville, and Mrs. Elaine Hoffman, 2309 N. Oneida street, collided as Armistage turned left onto N. Oneida from W. Franklin street in the path of Mrs. Hoffman's car. Her daughter, Christine, 21, received cuts and bruises on the face.

Shiocton Youth Admits Stealing 5 Car Radios

Thomson to Meet With Skenandore Probe Examiners

Madison — Gov. Vernon Thomson will receive a report Wednesday on the recent hearing in Green Bay on misconduct charges against Brown County Sheriff Artley Skenandore.

The governor's office said Thomson would meet with Herman Sachtjen of Madison, who conducted the hearing last month, and John Potter, of Wisconsin Rapids, hearing counsel.

Skenandore was accused in petitions for his removal with accepting money to protect a house of prostitution in Brown county and with being drunk on duty while in California earlier this year.

Sachtjen, a retired Dane county circuit judge, has said that he is prepared to tell Thomson his decision immediately or that he is willing to wait completion of the hearing transcript until he does so. He said he would follow Thomson's wishes in the matter.

North Central Asks CAB OK On Convoirs

Washington — North Central Airlines of Minneapolis, asked the civil aeronautics board Monday for approval of the purchase of five aircraft from Continental Air Lines of Denver.

North Central asked the CAB to accept the transaction without a hearing. The planes involved are twin-engine Convair 340 aircraft.

The line said a July 9 agreement provided for purchase of the planes for $1,625,000, with spare engines and parts costing an additional $70,000. North Central said the purchase price was $175,000 lower than the market price.

North Central said the Convair equipment would enable it to transfer DC-3 planes now in use on its regular services to other routes newly authorized by the CAB, one of which is Appleton.

(North Central previously has indicated the Convair aircraft would be used on nonstop Duluth - Chicago and Detroit segments of its line. In a recent release, Carr indicated that the Convoirs eventually will replace all DC-3s now in service.)

First Razing Work for New Store Begins

Demolition of the Wolter building, first step in construction of a new 6-story, multi-million-dollar H. C. Prange company department store, began today.

Kuhn Enterprises, route 4, Appleton, told the city council's street and sanitation committee Monday the work will take until about Aug. 20. Then, Quasius and Sons, Sheboygan, the general contractor, will begin construction on the 35 by 100-foot site. The building which results will be fitted with the rest of the new store, scheduled for later construction.

Henry Kuhn told the committee he will have to block Midway street entirely and the sidewalk, parking lane and one driving lane on N. Appleton street for one day, probably next Tuesday or Wednesday, when a crane will be used.

Committeemen authorized the plan and stipulated parking should be banned on the west side of N. Appleton on the day the driving lane is blocked.

Leslie Quasius asked for and received permission to erect a roofed, rerouted sidewalk around the Wolter site while construction is in progress. The sidewalk will take up the present parking lane on the east side of the street.

Prange officials have said the construction of the Wolter site part of the new store may take until January, 1960.

Major Fight In House on Welfare Bill

Centers on Tries to Exempt Plans Paid For by Management

Washington —(U)— A major house fight over an employee pension-welfare fund bill centered today around efforts to exempt those plans financed by management.

The fight moves to the house floor tomorrow with consideration of a bill to require public reporting on all such plans — both those run by labor unions and those run by management.

Legislation along somewhat similar lines already has been passed by the senate. It grew out of hearings by the senate rackets investigating committee, which developed testimony regarding gross misuse of some employee funds.

Labor unions have endorsed the principle of the legislation, provided it applies to management as well as labor-operated funds. Business groups have opposed inclusion of the funds they finance, contending these have not been involved in any charges of misuse.

Handled by Companies Many of the management funds are handled by commercial insurance companies, some of which have joined in the fight against the bill.

The house bill would require administrators of the plans to make available annual financial reports upon request of any participant. Copies of the reports would be filed with the secretary of labor.

An amendment proposed by Rep. Albert H. Bosch (R-NY) would eliminate the employer-run plans, known as "level-of-benefit" plans, from the disclosure report requirement.

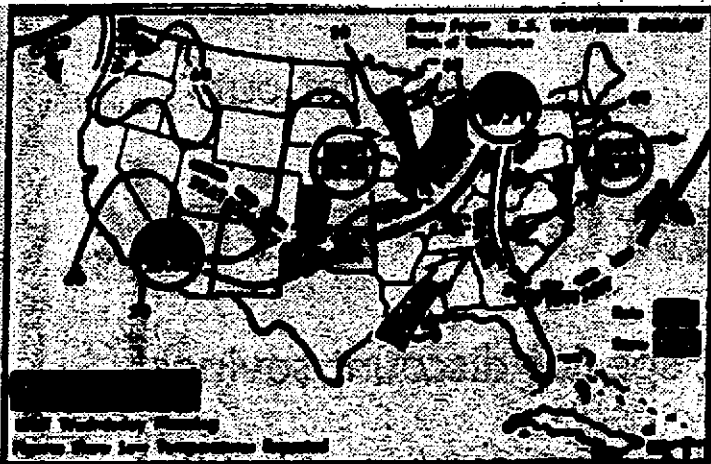

Bosch has said there was apprehension that some of the information which would be disclosed in the reports would be used by labor unions against the companies involved at the bargaining table.

No Study And, Bosch said, there had been no congressional study of the employer-run plans to see if they should be put into the same category with all others.

The senate bill would require reports to the secretary of labor and provide criminal penalties for false reporting and other abuses.

The house bill would require that all reports be sworn to, making violators subject to the perjury laws. In addition, willful failure to file a report would carry a criminal penalty of $1,000 fine or six months in jail.

In testimony before the house labor committee last year, health and life insurance representatives said they favored appropriate legislation necessary to prevent misuse of employee welfare programs. But they called for care to avoid unnecessary requirements that would add to the cost of operation of the programs.

Generally, Fair Weather is expected throughout the nation tonight with lower temperatures slated for the central Mississippi valley. Scattered showers are possible in the Lakes region, central Mississippi valley, western Kansas, western Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle. (AP Wirephoto)

Rain Falls, but Not in Eastern Area of State

Another nearly cloudless day dawned on the Fox Cities this morning, although showers fell in parts of the state Monday night. The southwest corner got about .25 of an inch.

However for the 24-hour period ending Monday evening Solon Springs and Danbury had a total of 1.53 inches, followed by 1.40 at Shell Lake; 1.02 at Black River Falls and Wisconsin Rapids, and 1.01 at Blair.

Appleton had a high of 80 Monday, with the overnight low a warm 69. Temperature at 11:15 this morning was 63, with the wind from the south at 12 miles an hour and the barometer at 29.86 inches.

Maximum readings in the state Monday were generally in the 80s except near Lakes Superior and Michigan, where they were in the 70s. The

Legless Man Puts 18,000 Miles on Car

Chicago —(U)—A legless man who spent 15 years on his stomach in a hospital after an automobile accident has driven 18,000 miles since his discharge a year ago seeking to rebuild his former business.

Cornelius (Bud) Koster, who operated an electrical sign business before his spine was crushed in the accident in 1943, has put this mileage on his specially rigged car driving in the suburban Bellwood area in search of new business.

"I want to get back where I was before I got hurt," Koster told a reporter. "The way I look at it, if a guy really wants to do something he can do it."

A year ago Koster, who is 39, was released from the Cook county hospital after his marriage to Mrs. Josephine Masterson, 41, and said he was "the happiest man in the world."

Mrs. Koster rides with him at night after she gets home from her job as a telephone company supervisor. She writes down the names of businesses where they see faulty neon signs. The next day Bud drops the firms a card calling attention to the trouble and offering his services as an electrical and neon sign expert.

In addition, Bud has a wood-working shop in his basement and is polishing up a book about his experiences. He gets around in a wheelchair and negotiates the stairs in an elevator which he adapted from a builder's brick-hauling elevator.

Koster, who had 29 operations while hospitalized, said he still suffers some pain in his hips. He has been able, however, to taper off some of the injections he receives to ease the pain.

Prisoner Takes Off—Like a Dirty Shirt

Los Angeles —(U)— Escape Artist Robert D. Ross has broken out again—this time disguised as a dirty shirt.

Ross climbed into a big canvas hamper of dirty laundry in the county jail Monday. The hamper was trucked to a laundry, but Ross slashed his way out en route and disappeared.

Sheriff's officers were trying to learn how Ross got into the hamper and how he got a knife to cut his way out. He was scheduled to appear in court for sentencing on a burglary conviction.

Ross, 26, escaped from the state penitentiary at Lansing, Mich., in July but was recaptured and paroled. Last May 14 he escaped while being taken to court here for trial. He was captured two days later.

Advice for Teens

More to Summer Job Than Holding It; Make Sure You're Asked Back

So you've got a summer job, and you are one of the lucky ones. Now all you have to do is hold it. Many a qualified teenager has been bounced out of a good summer job because she took the attitude that the boss was lucky to have her.

And many a teenager who has made a fine impression has been invited back to the same employment year after year, eliminating the problem of job seeking. Lay the ground work now for future employment or next summer's job.

Here are some of the mistakes you are likely to make, based on the experiences of one employer:

Don'ts to Watch

1. Getting to work late looking sullen as if you blamed your boss for having to work at all.
2. Using the telephone and chatting with your friends about nothing at all, conversations that should not be held in an office.
3. Gripping about the place to permanent employees, and criticizing the management, complaining about the pay you'd agreed to.

Depart Quietly

4. Leaving the job without returning file keys, desk keys, and locker keys and without cleaning out your desk and locker.
5. Not leaving a clue to the girl who will pick up your unfinished work as to what it is all about or where you left off.
6. Causing an upheaval in the office the day you leave instead of saying goodbye quietly to members of the staff.

Personal Note

7. Forgetting to thank the person who hired you and other members of the firm who were your superiors.
8. Not following up your summer employment with a note to the personnel chief, stating how you liked your job and expressing a desire to return next summer.
9. Telling unpleasant details of the job to all who will listen, particularly the people who recommend you for it or the employment agency who suggested you. If there was something really wrong, then report it. But don't complain because your boss worked you 10 minutes overtime or frowned because you came back from lunch a half hour late.
10. Respecting Job

Expecting that they will hire you next summer when you write asking for a job, if you haven't left a good impression.

It's always a good idea, says this employer, to take a pleasant attitude toward the job, providing the employer lives up to his agreement as to salary, hours and work conditions. If the job doesn't live up to your expectations, then quit. If it does, then respect it.

The thank you note you send the employer at the end of your stay with the firm will go a long way to giving you special consideration for a job next year, and don't hesitate, he reminds you, to make constructive suggestions about the job you have just left — in a nice way.

Cowgirls Visit Appleton

Princesses Promote Attendance at Fair

The four Alice Princesses dressed as cowgirls were in Appleton today to promote the State fair and the Roy Rogers grandstand show.

Although the fair stand is from Aug. 16 through 24, the girls' interest is centered on Aug. 20, Dairy day, when one of them will be crowned Alice in Dairyland.

Since being chosen princesses in June, the girls have been touring the agriculture industry in the state. Monday they started on their promotion tour to drum up interest in the state fair.

Wonder at Mechanization The girls are unanimous in their amazement over mechanization of the industry.

"It's big business," Carole Calabresa, Milwaukee, said. "It takes a lot of capital and machinery to feed all the people in the state."

The four girls, Miss Calabresa, Jane Trappe, Green Bay; Connie Lutz, Oconto Falls; and Barbara Haslow, Chile (Clark county), visited Green Bay, Sheboygan and Manitowoc Monday.

Today they traveled out of Appleton to Oshkosh and Fond du Lac and will spend the night in Milwaukee. Their further itinerary has not been set as yet, but they will make other personal appearances until fair time.

Included in these appearances will be parades at Kenosha, Prairie du Chien, Owen, Madison and Appleton.

The princesses were chosen from 20 girls who weathered 10 regional elimination contests. They were crowned in DePere.

Your Problems

Ann Called 'Damnyankee' by Southerner Who Likes 'Carry'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It's very apparent that YOU are a Damnyankee. I'll bet you've got a mid western nasal twang that could shatter a teacup at forty paces.

What are you trying to do, Ann Landers — start another Civil war? You gave far too much comfort to that catty sister-in-law who criticized the southern accent. Don't you know that soft tones are a true sign of gentility and aristocracy? If you consult the dictionary, you'll find that the southern belle was correct when she offered to "carry home" her relatives. According to Webster's "Carry" means: "to transmit from one place to another, in a ship, car or pocket."

Down south where manners are a Way of Life, we don't DRIVE people. Mules are driven, not human beings. I'd give $5,000 (in Confederate money, of course) to know where you hail from. Will you be good enough to tell us?—THE REBEL

Dear Rebel: Hang on to your Confederate money, boy—the South may rise again. I will tell you for free. I hail from Iowa.

Apologies to my fellow citizens south of the Mason-Dixon line. You are right about Webster's definition of "carry". Twenty lashes for Yankee Ann,—with a stalk of sugar cane, match.

DEAR ANN: My husband's mother, may her soul rest in peace, died of cancer. He has one sister who is 15 years older than he is. She refused to take her mother into her home so we took her in and paid all the doctor bills.

We've been married only two years and have a baby. Money is very scarce with us, but we felt we had to do everything possible to make her comfortable in her last days. My sister-in-law has teen age boys who spend money like water on young girls and other foolishness.

Now there is the matter of the hospital bill, and the funeral bill. My husband signed for everything, like a fool.

Of course he should ask, but if he "signed" he's stuck. The time to have worked out a sharing agreement was before—not now. For whatever it's worth, you and your husband will know for the rest of your lives that you did the decent thing, and his sister will

Our Children Talking With Toddler Helps His Vocabulary

BY ANGELO PATRI

Little children need to have people talk to them; and since they spend most of their time with their mothers they are the ones to do this.

Before they learn to talk they understand that they are being noticed and considered by the people who talk to them and sing to them. And this stimulates their intelligence. As they grow older they love the rhymes and nonsense verses of Mother Goose and Lear. These are an essential part of their education.

It is not so much that we would have them learn these rhymes to form their vocabulary, but rather we would have them enjoy the rhythm of them and the ideas that are acceptable to their minds at this time. The antics of animals and the unexpectedness and unusualness of the tales, are foreign to their experiences and hence laughable.

Aside from the rhymes and the stories, it is highly important to the development of the children's ability to talk, to think, that someone talk to them—as to other people—con conversationally. Never mind if they cannot keep up their end of the talk, just talk to them. Tell them about the bird on the bush by the window; about the dog on the path; about the rain, sunshine, wind, flowers—anything that comes within their notice.

This talk establishes communication between parents and children and that is a most valuable asset to both sides. Too often we see tongue-tied children in the presence of their parents.

This talking also gives him a beginning on the idea, it starts him thinking of things outside himself. It builds his vocabulary; which will be a good one if his father and mother will make an effort to use the best possible words for the subject.

Talking with and listening to other people is fun for children and they enjoy it hugely. If the leader of the conversation slips in a joke so that both can laugh, really laugh, with no make-believe about it, the child is warmed by the companionship and his way of looking at things is made merrier and his whole being is lifted.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

The question of whether or not to overcall is not quite as simple as players assume. True, the ancient Culbertson Rule of Two and Three (that the overcaller should have within three playing tricks of his bid, non-vulnerable, or within two tricks if vulnerable) is as sound as it was when first propounded about 25 years ago, but there are other considerations, too. Granting the relative safety of the overcall, overriding questions may be: (a) Is there any real future for the bid? And (b), will the overcall be of greater informational value to the enemy than it is apt to be to the overcaller's partner? Let's look at a hand:

Experience Necessary

Many Slips Possible for Career Girl Who Hopes to Reach Top

BY SUSAN M. ROGERS

Career women are born—not made. Climbing the icy mountain to success demands an unusual amount of drive, determination and the ability to impose stringent discipline upon one's self.

Experience is the foundation for success. Through it comes objective thinking and attack of a spade, but this was unfortunate for the defense. Declarer ducked in dummy, captured East's blank jack, and promptly continued the spade suit, finessing through West to the ten. Now a low heart was led. East put up the queen and, not naturally, shifted to his top diamond South ducked; West won with the queen and shifted to a low club (best) but this did not save him. South took East's nine, cashed the heart jack, then led a spade to the ace and collected the top hearts, discarding a spade and a club.

With all hands reduced to four cards, dummy had the spade six, the heart eight, and the 10-7 of diamonds. East was out of the running except for his high heart. South had kept the A-J of diamonds and the K-7 of clubs; West had to hold the high spade, hence was forced to blank either the diamond king or the club ace. Whatever he did could easily be countered by the declarer. Actually, West chose to blank the club ace. There upon declarer threw him in with the spade, and after West had cashed the club ace he had to lead up to South's diamond tenace.

If West had not overcalled the club bid, East undoubtedly would have shifted to clubs because of dummy's singleton, and then fair defense would have beaten the contract.

the gilt-edged asset of quickly evaluating human nature.

To that must be added the knack of combining femininity with a cool, calculating mind and the know-how to turn the tricks in the deft manner of a corporation president.

Goals Differ
The past two decades have dispelled the theory that women are cloying, sweet, little creatures—all fragrant and fluttery. They've put their shoulders to the wheel in business, science and the arts. They've proven that they can reach the pinnacle. But there's a vast difference between a working girl and a career girl. A working girl holds a job which provides her with money to live on. She has established no lofty goal. She is not seething with ambition nor willing to assume greater responsibility.

The best that she hopes for is an occasional raise, some fringe benefits and two weeks vacation with pay until some nice guy comes along with a marriage proposal.

Careerist Aims High
A career girl has her wagon hitched to a star. She has charted her course and every thought and move is designed to facilitate reaching her goal. Because women are conspicuous they are vulnerable to criticism and gossip. A smart woman learns early in life that what she is able to extract from living depends greatly upon her appearance and how she comports herself.

One fatal error is undisguised aggressiveness. I once interviewed a famous woman cartoonist who turned out to be the epitome of loud and raucous poor taste. One editor, who had employed her, told me confidentially: "I'm just like any other man. Human and romantic. But I reserve for myself the masculine prerogative of taking the initiative. I don't want some gal settling on me."

The type of comportment needed for success was dramatically illustrated for me in a woman executive who held the title of assistant vice president and general manager in a major corporation. I met her on the last call of a long research trip. I was exhausted when I arrived at her office. She met me with outstretched hands and a warm, sincere smile, saying—"You look as though you had walked all the way from Chicago."

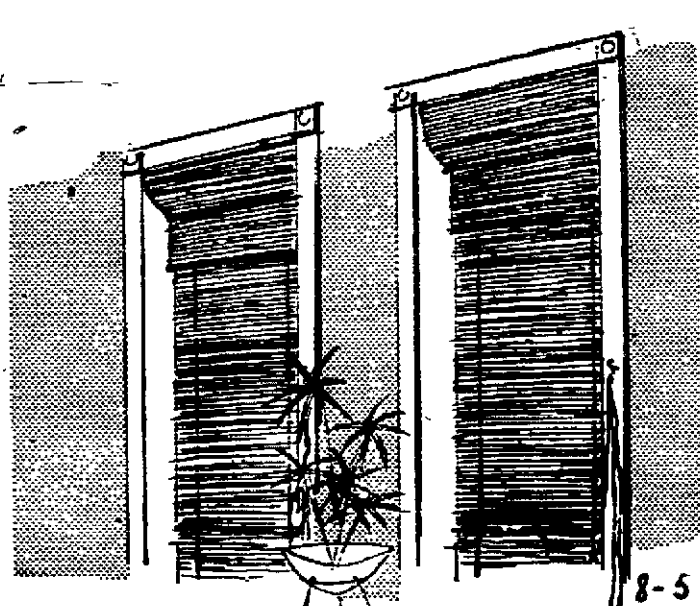

2 Success Truths
"I'll never forget this girl in her middle 40s who had spent 25 years coming through the ranks to her present position in her beautiful oak paneled office. In our time together she imparted wisdom that is indelibly imprinted on my memory. She emphasized two truths that have been the cornerstones of her success:

1. Keep your eye not only on your job but on all of those around, above and beneath you. This will enable you to learn all phases of the business, its operation and policies.
2. Conceal your aggressiveness under your softest femininity. Men claim aggressiveness as their birth right and fiercely resent it in women. That's pretty good counsel and it comes from a gal who has reached the top.

Shiocton Merchants Back Formation of Auction Livestock Barn Near Village

Shiocton — Businessmen are soliciting farmers to join a cooperative in which the businessmen will have no say. They are selling shares and memberships in the Central Wisconsin Cooperative Livestock Sales association.

The co-op was incorporated recently by Ralph Gehring, route 1, Shiocton, president; A. W. Dobberstein, route 1, New London, vice president; R. J. Krause, 215 W. Washington street, New London, secretary - treasurer, and Earl Carlson and Walter Laedtke, both of route 2, Shiocton, directors.

The co-op plans to construct a livestock barn on the old airport site northeast of here truckers or by taking their animals to the pick-up points of large slaughter houses.

Bring Buyers
The auction barn will bring buyers to a central location, where they will bid against each other. The farmer will be able to get the best price for his livestock and will not have to pay trucking charges. The co-op will charge a commission on each sale to cover expenses.

It is planned that at least one auction a week will be conducted. Livestock will be accepted at the barn every day.

At least twice a month the co-op will stage a feeder and breeder sale.

Ordinarily, sale animals must be slaughtered after purchase. In the feeder-breeder sale, the animals are not sold for meat.

The airport site has been offered to the co-op for about $2,000 by the Shiocton Flyers club, an organization which developed the 23-acre plot and erected buildings on it.

Leave Airstrips
Gehring said it is planned to leave the airstrips intact as an incentive for buyers to attend the auction sales.

Auction barns have become an increasingly popular means of selling livestock. The Equity Co-op recently began operations at Ripon and is constructing a barn at Bonduel. When the Bonduel barn is in operation, Equity is expected to close its auction operations at Green Bay and move to Bonduel.

Kuene Brothers, of Seymour, also are completing work on a barn which they will use part-time as an auc-

Reds Predict Another Year for Sputnik III

Moscow — The Soviet Union predicted Monday its Sputnik III will continue orbiting around the earth for well over a year yet.

The prediction was made in an analysis by the Soviet news agency Tass.

The article set the life span of Sputnik III launched May 15, at 500 days and its rocket carrier at six months. At that rate the sputnik should continue rotating until the end of August, 1959, and its carrier rocket until mid-November, 1958.

Seek to Indict Man Whose Story Cleared Painter

Jefferson, Ga. — A murder indictment was sought Monday against Charles (Rocky) Rothschild, whose confession of a slaying saved another man from the electric chair.

Prosecutor Alfred Quillian prepared to appear before a grand jury and ask it to indict Rothschild, former policeman of Cairo, Ill., and A. D. Allen, used car salesman from Winder.

Quillian charges them with the holdup killing of Charlie Drake, 60-year-old Jefferson merchant. Rothschild's confession named Allen as an accomplice in the killing.

James Fulton Foster, a house painter from Greer, S. C., was twice convicted and twice sentenced to death for the shooting of Drake. Foster was freed on bond after Rothschild confessed last month.

Aug. 11 has been set as a tentative date for hearing Foster's motion for a new trial to carry out legal technicalities for clearing him of the murder charge. He is married and has seven children.

Doctor Warns Man, Stops in Talkathon

Pittsburgh, N. Y. — A young air force sergeant quit on the insistence of a doctor Monday after talking 60 hours in a vain effort to outdo a woman.

Richard Kozina, 25, of Toledo, Ohio, still was willing to continue the talkathon. But an air force physician, Capt. Calvin Norman, said he could not be responsible for Kozina's voice if he continued.

Two other staff sergeants remained talking and a half-dozen more were set to join them later in the day.

Thomas Johnson of Memphis, Tenn., passed the 42-hour mark. Walter Morin of Jamaica Plain, Mass., completed 21 hours.

Johnson, a former radio disc jockey, was telling jokes. He repeated the same story over and over, with slight variations each time before switching to something else.

Kozina, his voice raspy and barely audible, told the Associated Press he still felt strong.

Meanwhile, his wife was about ready to give birth to their fourth child in St. John's Newfoundland. Talking was one way of passing the time waiting for word, he remarked.

The contestants are trying to outtalk a North Carolina woman who gabbed 92 hours without stopping.

Two other sergeants had dropped out since Kozina began talking Friday night. The test was being held in the non-commissioned officers club at this Strategic Air Command base in northeastern New York.

Statistics Show July Was Cooler, Wetter Than Normal

Despite the dry and hot weather of the last week or so, July actually was cooler and wetter than normal.

The monthly mean temperature was 69.5 degrees, 2.1 degrees below the 58-year average for July. Rainfall amounted to 4.19 inches, or .76 of an inch more than normal.

The hottest day of the month was July 26, when the thermometer climbed to 90 degrees.

The warm weather and many poles were blown over in the Bloomfield area during the last storm.

Growing degree units above a 40-degree base were favorable for general crop growth, even though moderately below the July normal. The monthly total of 916 was 30 less than normal. The total since the first of April is 2,230, only a little below normal.

The warm weather and ample rain stimulated rapid crop growth during the first half of the month. Field corn was knee high or better by July 4, in contrast to shorter stands in other areas. The lack of moisture curtailed growth until the rains late in the month.

The first hay crop was fair and cut early in the month. Second cuttings of alfalfa were beginning as the month ended. Oats grew rapidly and ripened fast, with harvesting in full swing by the last week.

Yields were averaging about 70 bushels per acre. Corn was beginning to tassle out with a good dark color in many fields late in July. The canning pea harvest was completed, with fair to good yields.

Heavy winds were reported by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company on three days. Gusts reached 44 miles an hour July 1, 51 miles an hour on the 9th and 47 miles an hour again on the 28th. Little storm damage was done, although several power companies.

Dry Period

Much of the rainfall fell during the first nine days of the month. This was followed by an extensive dry period during which only traces of rain fell. On the 27th and 28th, rainfall totaled .77 of an inch to provide welcome relief.

Heavy winds were reported by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company on three days. Gusts reached 44 miles an hour July 1, 51 miles an hour on the 9th and 47 miles an hour again on the 28th. Little storm damage was done, although several power companies.

Outline Plan for State Hospital

$7 Million Project Includes Female Employees' Dormitory

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A $7,000,000 long range building program for Winnebago State hospital, including a more immediate $1,300,000 project for construction of a female employees' dormitory, has been presented to the state building commission.

The program is outlined by the state department of public welfare in blueprints for long-range building plans proposed during the next six years. However, the $1,300,000 dormitory would be built during the next two years if the 1959 legislature provides the requested funds.

$8 Million Spent
The $7 million request for the period through 1965 is to supplement physical reconstruction for the big mental hospital on which more than $8,000,000 already has been spent.

The submission of plans to the building commission does not imply early approval. The commission can authorize projects only to the extent that the legislature provides the financing and usually the competition among departments brings about total requests far in excess of biennial legislative authorization.

The blueprints are suggestive, however, of the probable development of the hospital which receives mostly patients from the upper and eastern counties.

Other Additions

The department also would provide other staff and resident housing at a cost of $200,000 and improve its utilities at a cost of about $336,000 during the next two years.

For the 1961-63 biennium it wants to spend $2,500,000 on an infirmary building and in 1963-65 some $1,790,000 for a rehabilitation building and $300,000 for a regressed patient building. By that time, according to the schedule, the old main patient building at the hospital would be completely razed.

The female employees' dormitory, officials explain, is essential to the planned development of nursing and other training programs within the institution. To expand the teaching program, housing at the institution must be provided because of the difficulties of transportation to Oshkosh and other near-by communities, it was said. The dormitory would have a 150 bed capacity.

Rehabilitation

The rehabilitation building, planned for two stories with a 200 bed capacity, would be designed for the care of patients who have completed their treatment and are preparing for a return to their homes and employment.

The regressed patient building would accommodate about 100 persons and would be designed especially for those patients who have an unfavorable prognosis but whose condition is such that they cannot be cared for in the county institutions which usually handle chronic patients under the Wisconsin system.

Continued expansion of hospitals at Winnebago and Mendota is needed, the welfare department says, because the growth in the state's population portends some increases in the total number of commitments for treatment.

Winnebago hospital now has a rated capacity of about 872. The completion of the 6-year program would provide a capacity of about 1,056.

1-Cent Stamps Remain Scarce In Twin Cities

Menasha — One cent stamps are still scarce at both the Menasha and Neenah post offices, John Backes, Menasha postmaster, and George Rasmussen, Neenah postmaster reported today.

Rasmussen pointed out he has enough 1-cent stamps for his patrons but is not oversupplied. While he has never been out of any kind of stamp or envelope since the new rates went into effect, Rasmussen has had to borrow some from other post offices.

Both post offices have a good supply of the new 4-cent stamps.

Motherly Instinct Saves 1 Child, Another Dies

Falls Church, Va. — Mrs. Glen Rounsavell's motherly reflexes were swift when she came out of a neighbor's house last night.

She ran frantically to help her 3-year-old daughter who was sitting in a car that had begun to roll down a steep hill.

But in doing so, Mrs. Rounsavell dropped the 5-months-old infant she was carrying.

Police said the car wheels apparently struck the baby, which died of a fractured skull.

The car dragged Mrs. Rounsavell some 30 feet before it veered off the road into a house. She suffered a broken leg and severe cuts. The 3-year-old received bruises.

Venturi Wins Chicago Open By One Stroke

Earns $9,000;
Next Defenses are at Milwaukee, St. Paul

Chicago — (AP) — San Francisco's Ken Venturi, a professional of 20 months, carries his top swag of $9,000 from the Chicago Open into title defenses the next two weeks at Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Venturi, the leader all the way, squeaked to a 1-stroke triumph Monday in the $50,000 Chicago Open which replaced the currently defunct Tam O'Shanter golf show in this precinct. Venturi now has earned more than $60,000 as a pro.

2 Superb Shots
Venturi made two superb shots in his closing round of an 8-under-par 272 route performance at Glenheggs Country club which beat out veterans Julius Boros and Jack Burke.

One was a 60-foot putt for a birdie three on the 390-yard sixty-ninth hole. This put Venturi nine under par with three holes to play and really was the back-breaker of the tourney, although Venturi closed with a two-over-par 72 after firing rounds of 65-67-68.

However, Venturi regarded a 40-foot pitching wedge shot to within two feet of the 71st pin for a par three the greatest stroke he had made in his life. It was indeed a pressure shot because the hot pursuing Burke, playing in the same last threesome with Venturi, was on the green ahead of Ken with a cinch par.

Best Round
The veteran Boros slammed the best closing round, a 65, to tie with Burke at 273 for a $3,800 take each from second and third money.

Two strokes off the pace at 274, three players were deadlocked — Bob Rosburg, J. C. Goosie and South African Gary Player. Each collected $2,333.

The tourney's comeback kid, Bill Casper, Jr., was next at 275, good for $1,900. Casper, who got tangled in a bush for a whopping 10 on the eleventh hole in Friday's first round, had rounds of 80-64-64-67.

Giants Topple Cubs; Cards Vacate Cellar

By The Associated Press
Maybe the Milwaukee Braves can't start counting their World Series money after all. The Giants are still hanging around and a new challenger has appeared in the Pittsburgh Pirates.

After polishing off San Francisco in a 4-game weekend series, the way appeared clear for the Braves to take the short road home to another pennant in the National League. It doesn't look so easy now.

Mays Homers
The Pirates, who had won 10 of their last 12 previous games, not counting two suspended games, rode into County stadium Monday night and proceeded to cool off the Braves, 4-3.

San Francisco whipped Chicago, 6-4, to move within four games of the lead. The Pirates, fresh from a series sweep over St. Louis, all by shutouts, are only six games

Fountain-of-Youth Pirates Quench Hot Milwaukee, 4-3

Clemente's 9th Inning Homer Brings Raydon His 5th Victory

Milwaukee — (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates' fountain of baseball youth quenched the red-hot Milwaukee Braves Monday night, taking a 4-3 decision and breaking the Braves' victory string at six games.

The decision came with two out in the top of the ninth when 23-year-old Roberto Clemente clouted a bases-empty homer.

11th Victory
The victory was the eleventh in the last 13 games for Pittsburgh and put the third-place Pirates six games behind the league-leading Braves.

Tonight's second game of a 4-contest series will pit Ronnie Kline (11-9) against Milwaukee's Lew Burdette (10-8).

The Pirates staged a few times in their ebbless Monday night but they endured better than their manager, Danny Murtaugh, who was expelled in the fourth inning for arguing too hard.

The top of the ninth illustrated the resiliency of the Bucs.

Pirates Appalled
Roman Mejias, batting for winning pitcher Curt Raydon, hit what looked like a double. The Pirates were appalled when the umpires said Mejias didn't touch first base.

The miscue was forgotten when Clemente sent his fourth homer of the season over the left center field fence.

The homer gave the 24-year-old Raydon his fifth pitching victory against three defeats this season. The loss was the first against two victories for Juan Pizarro. Milwaukee's 21-year-old Puerto Rican southpaw.

Raydon, who gave up eight hits, survived personal, misfortune in the third and fourth innings when the Braves scored their runs.

In the third, "Red" Schoendienst smashed a single off Raydon's glove. Raydon walked Eddie Mathews, filling the bases. Henry Aaron's sacrifice fly nudged one run home. Raydon had two out in the fourth when he was charged with a balk that advanced Frank Torre across the plate and moved Del Rice from second base to third.

That wasn't the only tough turn of events in the inning for the Pirates. Rice had got to second base when Clemente failed to make a shoestring catch of the Braves' catcher's looping hit.

Rice scored on a triple by Billy Bruton, who would have been the third out if Pittsburgh catcher Hank Foiles hadn't dropped Bruton's earlier pop foul.

The excitement was too much for Murtaugh, who was ousted when he protested too vigorously about the balk.

The Pirates, who had scored two runs with three singles in the first inning, settled down and tied the score 3-3 in the top of the fifth inning.

Clemente led off the fifth with a single. Dick Stuart walked, Frank Thomas sin-

Paul Shwaiko Expected to Play for UW

Madison — (AP) — Paul Shwaiko, a member of the University of Wisconsin 1952 Rose Bowl football team, is expected to be a member of the Badger roster this fall.

Shwaiko is eligible for one more year of competition and recently was released from a 2-year active duty tour with the army in Germany.

Coach Milt Bruhn said Shwaiko, a former Kenosha High school star, had indicated he would return to school next month.

Shwaiko won three letters at Wisconsin, playing defensive halfback in 1952 and switched to guard in 1954 and 1955. He kicked 50 of 60 extra points and his three field goals in 1954 set a school record for Big Ten competition.

Senators Trip Phillies, 5 to 4, At Cooperstown

Cooperstown, N. Y. — (AP) — The Washington Senators, mired in the American League cellar, have one consolation prize—the Hall of Fame cup.

The Senators knocked off the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4, Monday in the seventeenth renewal of the annual major league exhibition game at Doubleday field before 8,515 fans. The victory gave the American league a 9-5 edge in the series.

Vito Valentineti pitched five hitless innings in relief of starter Jim Constance to beat Seth Morehead, Albie Pearson of Washington and Willie Jones of the Phils hit home runs.

Six of the 31 living members of the Hall of Fame attended ceremonies at which a new Hall of Fame building was dedicated earlier in the day.

No new members were elected to the Hall this year by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Burlington Dumps Winona, 7-5, on Handley's 2 Homers

By The Associated Press
Cedar Rapids split a doubleheader at Davenport Monday night but gained ground in its fight to hold first place in the Three-I league as second-place Green Bay lost to Fox Cities, 7-5.

Cedar Rapids beat Davenport in the opener, 6-1 and lost, 5-4, in the nightcap, which the Raiders played under protest.

The disputed play came in the third inning when Chuck Lindstrom's hit was first declared a ground-rule double and then a home run. It was Lindstrom's eleventh homer and was Davenport's final run.

Bob Botz picked up his sixth victory in the first game by firing a 7-hitter.

Lee Handley's two homers paced Burlington to a 7-5 triumph at Winona. Dave Hanrahan also homered for the Bees and Rick Rogers hit his twenty-second 4-bagger for Winona.

Archie Moore, Howard King Fight to Draw

Reno — (AP) — Archie Moore, scoffing at his draw Monday night with Howard King, promptly challenged the Reno fighter today to defend his Nevada heavyweight title in a 15-round rematch.

The champ, a stout 190 pounds, never came close to landing the punch he needed to top the world's record of 126 knockouts.

Moore stalked King through all 10 rounds while his 193-pound opponent responded with flicking left jabs and an occasional flurry.

Cast and Sprain Society Of 1957 Packers Is About to be Disbanded

Last Season's Injured Players are All OK With Exception of Kramer; Ford Works Out

BY ART DALEY

Green Bay Press-Gazette Sports Editor

Green Bay—The exclusive Green Bay Packer Cast and Sprain society is about to be disbanded.

The organization was created during the 1957 season—the result of a unique run of injuries that sidelined as many as seven regulars at one sitting. There were five broken-bone cases and three or four other injuries that were just as bad as breaks.

With the exception of Ron Kramer, who is still nursing a broken leg to the extent that he can't practice, the membership can no longer claim working cards in the GBCASS because they are cured of the ailments and all thoughts thereof.

In case you haven't guessed, this is a new season and the hurties of '57 are the strongees of the current year.

Back in Order
Back in good running order are Joe Skibinski, the veteran offensive guard who broke his leg in training camp a year ago; Linebacker-center Sam Palumbo, who suffered a broken ankle during the season; End-Tackle Nate Borden, broken wrist; Linebacker Tom Bettis, torn cartilage; End-Slot Back Gary Knafele, knee lock that required surgery; Quarterback-Fullback Paul Hornung, sprained ankle; and Howie Ferguson, who underwent surgery on his troubled knee during the season. Bettis also went under the knife to correct his injury.

Many others suffered various damaging hurts a year ago and they're all hearty now... One fellow, Center Mike Hudock, sprained his ankle in the College All Star camp a year ago and couldn't report for even a tryout. Hudock is on hand this season.

The Packers went through a couple of stiff scrimmages this infant training season with one major injury—a broken leg and dislocated ankle for St. Norbert Half-back Norm Jarock. Norm will be out for the season. A year ago, Skibinski broke his ankle in the opening scrimmage. Injury lightning hit the Packers in a lot of places last year... And it isn't expected to strike twice in the same spots.

The worst injuries in camp at the moment are a few pulled muscles and various bumps and bruises... There are plenty of them but Coach Ray McLean and Trainer "Bud" Jorgensen are re-

Yanks Snap Back By Tripping Orioles

9-4 Victory Moves New Yorkers Nearer Early Pennant Clinching

By The Associated Press
With almost eight weeks to go, the Yanks are rapidly approaching their own record of 1941 when they wrapped up the American league pennant by Sept. 4.

After their customary Sunday slump, the Yanks resumed their winning ways Monday night at Baltimore where Mickey Mantle hit his twenty-ninth home run during a 9-4 victory. It was the only game scheduled in the league. As of Tuesday morning, the Yanks had 50 games to play. Second-place Boston, 16 games behind, had 52 to go. If the Red Sox win them all, the Yanks could clinch it by taking 26 games.

In fact, a 25-25 split by the Yanks would make it necessary for the Red Sox to take 42 of 52 just to get a tie.

Off to Fast Start
The Orioles were off to a fast start before they sunk to their eighth straight defeat. Arnold Portocarrero, one of retreat jobs, was pitching hitless ball for four innings. Then the Yanks started to move. Each New York starter made at least one hit and six men knocked in runs. Bill Skowron's eleventh homer with Elston Howard on base in the fifth opened the Yanks scoring and Mantle's blast ended it. A 4-run spurt in the sixth broke a 3-3 tie.

Although Don Larsen had a when it meets Caroline in another night game. In the other games Shawano will be at Tigerton and Gresham at Bowler.

Clintonville's Ken Lambie is currently running fourth in the league with a .444 batting average. Jim Brahan is eighth with a .408.

Lawrence Says:

Many Voters Don't Recall Events in '30's

Appeasement Didn't Stop Adolph Hitler From Aggression

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Wars come and go periodically throughout the pages of history, but the lessons they teach or the basic movements that cause them are generally overlooked by succeeding generations.

Thus today, when there are references in the statements of the president and secretary of state to parallel happenings in the 1930's, only a minority of the voting population is old enough to recall from first-hand contact with the events of those days just what did happen.

Out of a total voting population today amounting to about 106,000,000, there are nearly 60,000,000 persons in the United States who were not yet 21 when Hitler came to power in Nazi Germany. By the time Hitler had deceived the governments of Great Britain, France and the United States and finally had encouraged the Japanese to make their attack at Pearl Harbor, two-thirds of the eligible voters of today were in their 20's or younger. Persons in the lower age groups usually do not follow international affairs closely and hence references to what happened in the 1930's will seem to these youngsters vague and unfamiliar.

The popular theory nowadays is that the way to prevent war is to bring the heads of the rival governments together in a place like New York or Geneva and with thousands of reporters present and with radio and television representatives there to send millions of words around the globe, peace somehow will become possible.

of what went on between the first and second world wars. It is no wonder that he is lukewarm about the value of "summit" conferences.

What seems odd today is that the emphasis is on meetings directly between the heads of governments that are potential enemies, instead of on "mediation," which used to be the most conspicuous word in the headlines of prewar history.

Today, while both the west and east continue their military preparations for a possible war, the machinery of the United Nations has come to be looked upon hopefully as a sort of mediation device. But it lacks the strength of the old-time mediation process because the principals in a dispute now take part in deciding directly how the issues shall be handled. Since this is done under the glare of full publicity, there is no opportunity for real negotiation or adjustment of viewpoints toward a settlement. Pride of position is the insurmountable barrier that prevents any side from yielding a point.

In the old-fashioned mediation, negotiations took place privately through ambassadors or ministers. Today there are available many means of private communication, including transoceanic telephones. The top-level officials of a mediating country that could be trusted by both sides would — if an agreement were really possible — have no difficulty moving the world further toward peace than a dozen "summit" conferences or security council sessions.

Truth of Matter

The truth of the matter is that Khrushchev considers the west licked. His terms are unconditional surrender. In the latest joint communique he has issued with the ruler of red China, Khrushchev boasts of his strategic position. He has, through "indirect aggression," gotten a strong foothold in southeast Asia and in the middle east. He controls eastern Europe, and he is betting on the appeasers in Britain, France and the United States to build up a sentiment against the use of nuclear weapons so that he will have military supremacy through conventional arms.

It was precisely this confidence that a military victory could surely be won which inspired Hitler's arrogance and finally his gamble when he attacked Poland. He was convinced that the western democracies would not fight or, if they did, that America's help would be too late. He miscalculated the temper and resoluteness of his opponents, just as Khrushchev may miscalculate. But it's a frightful price to pay for experience — to encourage such miscalculations, as so many people in Britain, France and the United States are doing when they play into the hands of the communist leaders by ignoring the series of aggressions in the world perpetrated by the nazis got away with in the 1930's.

It is a tragic commentary on the forgotten lessons of history to note nowadays the eagerness to embrace the "summit" the Kremlin masters of deceit in what is being called a "popular" tide in world opinion.

Ruskin Wins Medal at Milwaukee With 70

Leads Amateur Qualifiers for Big Tourney; Neenah Pro Bob Below Has Spot in Field

Forty-seven year old Sammy Ruskin of Milwaukee took the medal Monday with 70 strokes at Tripoli Country club, winning one of 10 amateur prizes in the 72-hole Milwaukee open golf tournament.

The $35,000 tourney opens Thursday at Tripoli.

Ruskin's card of 35-35 included three birdie putts, ranging from six to 30 feet.

The medalist's putting was overshadowed by a 125-yard hole-in-one by Ken Berke of Milwaukee, one of two qualifiers with 71s. Berke scored his ace on the seventh hole with a No. 9 iron.

Howard Shoots 71

Gene Howard of Glenview, Ill., also shot a 71.

Tied at 73 were Roy Sreves of Delavan and Archie Dadian, a Milwaukee public links player who reached the semifinals of the recent Wisconsin amateur tourney.

Bill Cummings of Winnetka, Ill., and Bill Diederich of Milwaukee qualified with 74s, and John Jennings of Chenequa had a 75.

Jim Martin and Jim McCoy of Milwaukee won a playoff for the last two qualifying places after tying with Ed Luedtke of Milwaukee at 76.

Martin and McCoy won on the first hole with par 4s. Luedtke three-putted for a bogey five.

Visitor Fires Unusual Ace at Kaukauna's Fox Valley Course

One of the more unusual holes-in-one of the Fox Cities golf season was fired at Kaukauna's Fox Valley course Sunday.

Playing in a foursome, Air Force Captain Roy Potochnik, San Antonio, Tex., fired a 9-iron shot toward the green on the 125-yard No. 3 hole. The ball struck the ball of a companion and then bounced into the cup.

Potochnik is visiting in the area with his wife, the former Carole Brush, New London. The Potochnik is guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwalbach, Darboy.

Aussies' Hopman Says Italy Could Beat U. S.

Melbourne — Australian Davis cup Captain Harry Hopman believes Italy could defeat the United States and be Australia's challenger for the Davis cup this year.

Writing in the Melbourne Sun today Hopman said, "Italy's top players, Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola, have enough experience to be a threat."

Packers' Cast And Sprain' Group Disbands

lieved to know that they're not serious.

The Packers had a spot of live pass protection and one of the participants was giant Len Ford, the defensive end obtained from the Cleveland Browns. Though Ford is fresh over the flu that hospitalized him for a few days, he appeared to have lost none of his old bone-crushing power bearing down on the passer.

Assistant Coaches Ray Richards and Nick Skorich, who saw plenty of Ford in the Eastern Conference (Ray was former head coach of the Cardinals and Skorich coached the Steelers' line) and both agreed that "he looked as good as ever out there." They noted that his weight is down to 251, which is about what he wants to play at.

Ford is 32.

The Packers have another coaching aide who can't forget Ford, and that would be Floyd "Breezy" Reid who, as a packer halfback, blocked Ford while protecting the passer. Reid just held up his hand when reminded: "He leaped clean over me a couple of times," "Breezy" said, "and all I could do was turn around and yell to Rote, 'looooooook out.'"

McLean is hoping that Ford, at 32 and 10 pro seasons under his belt, can come up with one more good year. Judging by the way Lennie is handling himself, he's sure of making his packer year one of his better ones.

Forest Gregg worked at offensive left tackle in his first practice Monday. Gregg, presently on leave from the air force, must return to service late this month for the purpose of being discharged early in September, the sophomore tackle who did so well as a rookie in 1956 reported Sunday.

Make Trade

The Packers will be busy this week. After a mid-week scrimmage, they'll divide briefly to get ready for the public intra-squad game at the new stadium at 4:30 Saturday afternoon. Prices for the big go are 90 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

in right and a clean single by the league's leading hitter, "Potato" Pascual, gave the visitors a 3-2 fifth inning lead.

"Chick" Payne made it 4-2 with a 280-foot home run—his season's fifth—in the seventh inning.

Back-to-back doubles by Wade Arnold and Smith followed by Parker's infield single gave two runs of life to Green Bay in the seventh. But the Foxes added another pair in the ninth to offset them.

Two errors contributed to the ninth inning rally.

Parker's run in the bottom of the ninth was the result of the Jays' last futile attempt.

"Tex" Taylor hit safely in his eleventh straight game for the Foxes.

Polite Bandit Gets $200 From Couple

Pittsburgh —A polite bandit with a shaky gun hand routed a suburban Oakmont couple out of bed early Monday and robbed them of $200 in cash. He ignored jewelry and several valuable art objects.

The gunman, described as tall and slender and about 60, entered the luxurious home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kerr in an exclusive section by smashing a downstairs window.

Kerr is a director of the McGraw-Edison company and president of the Pennsylvania Transformer division at Canonsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Kerr said the bandit first entered her bedroom and ordered her to take him to her husband. She said he turned his back while she donned a robe.

Kerr said he gave the man $200 from his wallet. After saying "Thanks, Pal," the bandit casually walked down the stairs and out the door, Kerr said.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused: Do not say, "He was with us throughout the whole week." Omit "whole," since "throughout" means from end to end, or in every part.

Often Mispronounced: Phantasy. Pronounce fan-tah-si, accent on first syllable.

Often Misspelled: Metal; one "l." Metallurgy; two "l's."

Synonyms: Examine, explore, inspect, investigate, scrutinize, search.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: acumen; quickness of perception; penetration of mind. (Pronounce aa-kyu-men, accent second syllable). "Her rare acumen qualifies her for this position in our office."

Middle East Uncensored

Nasser Symbol, Rather Than Man, to Arab Nationalists

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

New York—Scholarly young Arab intellectuals speak in clear, clipped British accents of the coming rout of the western foreigner.

Well heeled young sheiks in immaculate white robes and kaffiyahs mutter sullen protests against the feudalism which is the source of their wealth.

Palestine refugees cling to their tin-roofed shacks and dream of revenge.

All look speculatively toward Cairo. For the present, at any rate, Gamal Abdel Nasser is their hero.

This is not because he is Gamal Abdel Nasser. It is because they are in search of a hero. Nasser will do until a better one comes along. Nasserism is something which grew out of international events, inexorably pushing the Arabs into violently defensive attitudes. Nasserism need not be the only way out for them.

In fact, Nasser already has passed one peak of popularity in the Arab east. The United Arab Republic's president still has enormous potential for good or mischief. But developments this year have cooled the ardor of some of his followers.

It is for the west now to recognize that Nasser is only a symbol to most nationalists. His appeal is to a small but powerful intellectual class which blames the west for its woes. It sees Nasser as a symbol of reviving Arab power which one day will crush imperialism and colonialism. It blames these for its sense of inferiority and backwardness in a modern world.

Active Propaganda

The peasants of Egypt, the lonely Bedouin nomads of the Arab deserts, the heavily burdened laborers of Iraq know little of politics. If they respond to Nasser, it is because Arab intellectuals have persuaded them to do so with the poetically cadenced violence of emotional propaganda. The masses will not make the Arab's future. The intellectuals will.

Gamal Abdel Nasser has grown into the biggest figure in the Middle East. How much of his story is reality, how much is myth? William L. Ryan appraises Nasser's appeal in this article, second of a series of four cutting through the Mideast's censorship and propaganda.

Nasser was a spur to revolution in Iraq. But this did not necessarily mean Iraqis in the future would follow him blindly. They won't, if they have something more promising to follow.

Nasser is the god to revenge among Palestine refugees. Many of the half million of these in Jordan have moved into the country's economic mainstream and with their education and business knowhow are flourishing. They can educate their children now and keep their families well. But they cling to that United Nations refugee card and slay doggedly in their awful hovels, because to give up either would be to surrender their claims to revenge against Israel.

Even these will not follow Nasser blindly. They follow him so long as he represents to them the hope of revenge. Should he attempt to make any accommodation with Israel or be suspected of turning his back on the Palestine question, the refugees will look for a new leader.

The sleek young sheiks admire Nasser for the moment. Their admiration stems from fury at the spectacle of their own countries still mired in centuries old feudal backwardness in the midst of oil riches.

Nasser was a spur to revolution in Iraq. But this did not necessarily mean Iraqis in the future would follow him blindly. They won't, if they have something more promising to follow.

Oil Town in Sumatra at Jungle Edge

Rumbai, Indonesia

For 140 American families living in this little oil town in Sumatra, the jungle is just around the corner.

The Americans are employees of the Caltex Pacific Oil Co., which has torn up the trees and created a town with everything but television.

"Every time I walk out the door I'm surprised. In the house it's just like being back in the states, but outside, there may be an elephant a few blocks away," said Mrs. Harman Harris of Bronxville, N.Y.

Other Communities

Construction of Rumbai began about six years ago when the Minas oilfield started producing. Another modern town is now going up at the new Duri oilfield and a smaller settlement at the new ocean port of Dumai on Sumatra's Nasser's rule brought something a little better.

But many in the tiny middle class, which makes and breaks regimes in Arab countries, feel disillusion.

The impression one gets, after an extensive fact-finding tour in an area where facts are scarce, is that Nasser need not be the only answer. However illogical they may appear to westerners, the yearnings of these young men have important bearing on the west's future in the Middle East. Thus far the west has offered nothing to take the place of Nasser and of the economy means nothing. He couldn't sink lower, nationalist aspirations with To a relatively few fellaheen, extremist Nasserism.

shook their faith in their hero. This was not the sort of Arab unity they had envisioned.

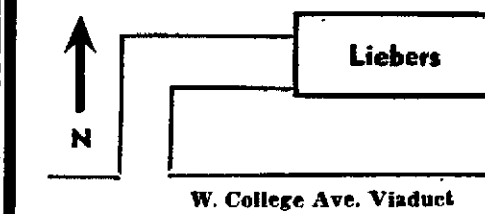

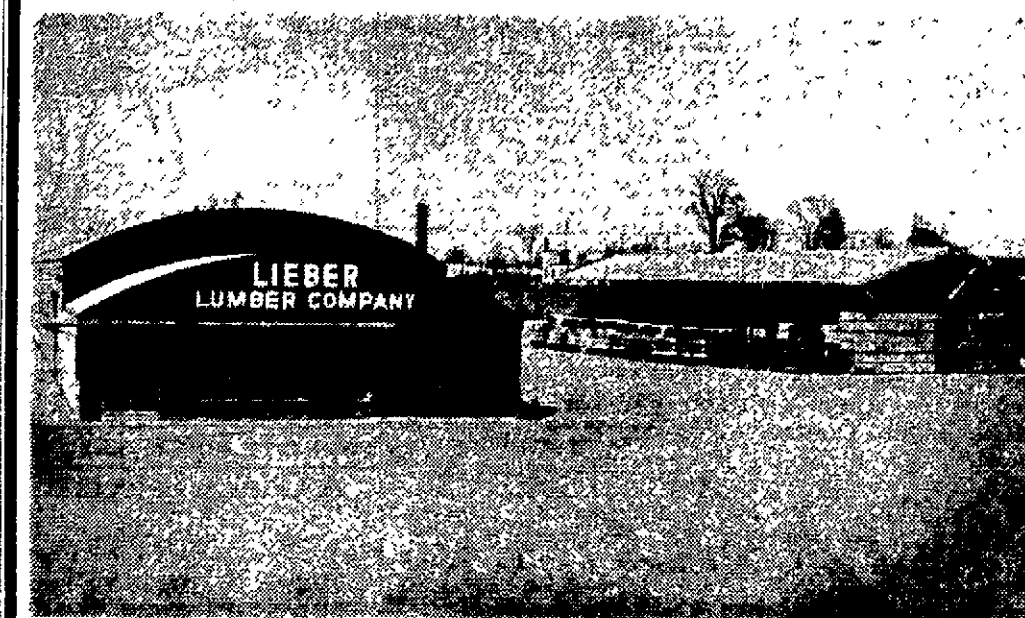

Bleak Economy

In Egypt, young men are stirring. The little middle class concentrated in the cities is unhappy. Egypt's economy is in woeful condition. The middle class feels the pinch. To the unwashed, unshod fellah (peasant) the state of the economy means nothing. He couldn't sink lower, nationalist aspirations with To a relatively few fellaheen, extremist Nasserism.

east coast, making a belt of Americana halfway across the island. It's also a belt of good relations between the United States and Indonesia. Instead of criticising the gaudy juke box in the Rumbai club, or regarding the swimming pool as an example of American materialism, the Indonesians push the buttons, whistle along with the Frank Sinatra records, and go swimming in the pool. Of 300 staff positions in the oil company, 80 are held by Indonesians. Caltex says the proportion is growing as fast as the Indonesians can be trained to take over. Living quarters for Americans and Indonesians are the same. Rumbai's houses, prefabs from Sweden and the United States, have electricity, hot water, frozen food from the states, neat green lawns. There are paved roads, a school, a golf course and occasional movies.
